BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1441 (Senate Bill No. 583), as follows:

An Act authorizing the annexation to cities of the second class of portions of townships not exceeding one hundred acres in area and totally surrounded by said cities and providing for the division of the assets and liabilities of said townships

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter any city of the second class that entirely surrounds a portion of a township the area of which is not greater than one hundred acres may annex said portion of said township to said city by ordinance

Section 2 The assets and liablities of said township shall be divided between it and the annexing city in the proportion that the assessed valuation of the territory annexed bears to the total last preceding assessed valuation of the entire township

Section 3 The Courts of Quarter Sessions of the respective counties are hereby authorized upon petition of either the annexing city or the township to ascertain and determine the said assets liabilities and division of them between the annexing city and the township In ascertaining the indebtedness neither pending actions nor claims against such townships founded upon tort shall be included unless the same shall in the meantime have been prosecuted to final judgment

Section 4 All acts and portions of acts conflicting with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 956, as follows:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and eighty-one) entitled "An Act to authorize certain corporations to become sole surety for the faithful performance of any trust or duty and to authorize certain officers to approve the same" by requiring the approval thereof when the certificates issued by the Insurance Department to said corporations have been filed in the prothonotary's office

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and eighty-one) entitled "An Act to authorize certain corporations to become sole surety for the faithful performance of an trust or duty and to authorize certain officers to appro the same" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted et cetera That whenever any person individually or in any public or private trust who is now or hereafter may be required or permitted by law to make or execute (and) or give a bond or undertaking with security conditioned for the faithful performance of any duty or for the doing or not doing of anything in said bond or undertaking specified any head of a department judge of the Supreme Court or prothonotary thereof judge of the court of common pleas or prothonotary thereof judge of the orphans' court register of wills sheriff magistrate or any other officer who is now or shall be hereafter required to approve the sufficiency of any such bond or undertaking shall (may in the discretion of such officer accept such bond or undertaking and) approve the same whenever the conditions of such bond or undertaking are guaranteed by a company duly authorized by the Insurance Department of this State to do business in this State and authorized to guarantee the fidelity of persons holding positions of public or private trust and (such company may become sole surety in any case where by law one or more sureties may be required for the faithful performance of any trust or duty Provided however That where such bond or undertaking shall involve the safe keeping or faithful application of the assets of any judiciary such head of department judge or other officer shall make such order or decree as shall assure the retention of such assets within this Commonwealth in such manner as such head of department judge or officer may direct until disposition thereof be made according to law) whenever such company has filed in the office of the prothonotary of the county in which the said bond is to be approved a certificate issued by the Insurance Commissioner of the State authorizing it to become surety on all bonds obligations and undertakings and until such certificate has been revoked by the Insurance Commissioner

Such certificate shall be conclusive proof of the solvency and credit of such company for all purposes and of its qualifications to be so accepted as such sole surety and its sufficiency as such

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MOTION TO PLACE BILL ON CALENDAR.

Mr. POSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1250, file folio 4853, entitled:

An Act permitting licensing regulating and controlling horse racing and betting and wagering on the result of such races creating a racing commission with jurisdiction over the same be placed on the calander, notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the committee, as this bill is a real revenue raiser.

Mr. VAN ALEN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. This bill was reported from the committee more than five days ago, and the motion is not in order.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it has become quite the thing about this House to rise to a question of personal privilege and find some fault with the newspapers. It is not my intention to do that this afternoon, although I do expect to take my text from the editorial of one of the newspapers this morning. The wreck that has occurred to our tax program reminds me of the story of the crazy man, a nut, who escaped from a hospital down in Philadelphia. He ran along the street and jumped into an automobile and ran the car down very rapidly to the City Hall, where he saw two Chinese laundrymen. He jumped out and compelled the laundrymen to get into the car and drove rapidly out towards Germantown. He ran into a telegraph pole and there was a very severe wreck. The police investigated and reported it the worst wreck they had ever known of. All they could find was one nut and two washers. That, seemingly, is more than we can find of our tax program.

The Philadelphia North American of this morning says the following:

"Necessary expenditures of the State are rapidly outgrowing present revenues, and it is obvious that new sources of income must be found if crippling shortages are to be averted. Some features of the penal institutions of Pennsylvania are a disgrace to a wealthy and civilized state, and cannot be made tolerable except at heavy cost. An adequate provision is made for care of the insane, of mentally deficient children, of the indigent sick and disabled. Scores of other projects of compelling merit will make continuing and growing demands upon the Commonwealth.

"Now how have the practical politicians been dealing with this challenging situation? Have they followed the practice adopted by other enlightened states, and made a scientific study of up-to-date revenue measures? Have they analyzed the operation of the sales tax, which has proved so successful in Canada? Are they familiar with the workings of the tax on manufactured products, by which New York raises $40,000,000 a year, and by which New Jersey and Ohio substantially augment their revenues? Have they made any thorough examination of the results of a tax on bituminous coal and other natural resources?

"No such enterprises have engaged their attention. Confronted by the alternatives of raising $20,000,000 additional revenue or condemning the public schools to starvation, these exponents of practical statesmanship have just drifted and floundered, revealing a bewildered incapacity to cope with the problem. Any and every suggestion finds eager advocates among them. Some seriously urged transferring road funds to the schools; others made the brilliant proposal that the school term be shortened to save money; there have been haphazard recommendations for doubling the automobile license fee, for increasing the levy on gasoline, for taxes on tobacco and chewing gum—any makeshift device with which to get by. And these projects are not examined on their merits; they gain approval or are rejected according to the weight of opposition they arouse. The politicians leave unsolved the real question of revenues for future needs; they have no other idea than to find some temporary expedient that will put the load on those groups of tax payers that show the least ability to fight."

Now, members of the House, with respect to the first indictment and the fact that we have not followed the practice of other enlightened states, I want to say to you that the Ways and Means Committee or members thereof, have obtained data from many other states as to the systems of taxation existing therein. They made a very careful study for instance, of the operation of the sales tax, the very thing they say that we never have examined at all. We received laws that successfully operated in other states, and went into them carefully. Three months ago they were discarded, for reasons which I will give you presently. Now, then, we are familiar with the workings of the tax on manufactured products in other states, and we have made examinations concerning the tax on bituminous coal. There isn't a solitary indictment that they placed against the Ways and Means Committee that has anything to stand on, because we have actually, carefully examined all of these things.

Now, then, I want to talk to you just a moment concerning the possibilities of a sales tax. I have heard in the House, well-meaning members. I myself started to make an investigation of this, and we find certain obstacles in the way. In the first place, the great obstacle in the way of a sales tax is that it would require many months of very careful study of the existing laws regarding the gross receipts tax and the corporations tax and the corporate loan tax and the inheritance taxes and the one hundred twenty other subjects of taxation, which compose the catch-as-catch-can, hodgepodge system of taxation in the State of Pennsylvania. And then, we would have to study the gross sales of the State of Pennsylvania. Now, it is estimated that the gross turnover on sales in the State of Pennsylvania will be $15,000,000,000 a year. We have no accurate data upon that and that cannot be found within a month, or within two or within three months. If we had a turnover of $15,000,000,000 a year, we could impose a levy of four mills and obtain an income of $60,000,000 a year, or $120,000,000 in two years. Now, let us examine into this, somewhat. In this House, by an overwhelming vote, some two months ago, there was defeated a proposal which, if submitted to the people and adopted would make a sales tax possible, but without which a sales tax is impossible; and that prosposal was to permit this Legislature to lay graded and progressive taxes and to make exemptions. Now, let us examine the sales tax. In the State of West Virginia they make exemptions under their sales tax operation of $10,000. That is, all gross sales under $10,000 are exempted. Now, it is absolutely impossible under the constitution of this State to make a solitary exemption, and if we put a sales tax on, the woman who bakes bread for a living and sells a few loaves of bread to the neighbors or any definite number of customers, she would have to pay the sales tax just the same as the corporation that was doing a business of $20,000,000 a year. And now, another thing, if we put on a sales tax of a general nature, it would apply to all interests including the agricultural interests. In the State of West Virginia they exempt agricultural pursuits. No such thing is possible in the State of Pennsylvania, if we adopt a general sales tax. Now, I may be wrong in many of these deductions; I have gone to the fiscal officers of the State and the man who is entrusted with the legal department of the collection of taxes, and my deductions that I am giving to you are from facts and from information which he gives me. It would be a very great boon to this Legislature if we could adopt a sales tax, and I want to see such a continued, careful examination of the relation of a sales tax to the constitutional provision which says that all taxes must be uniform on the same subject, to determine whether or not this deduction may be wrong, and if it is, the sales tax is the fairest kind of a tax. It is a most just tax, it is a most equitable tax, it can be more widely distributed and it is easily collected. According to the Auditor's Department, such a tax would be easily collected. Now, then, let us get some idea of how a sales tax works in the State of West Virginia. I have had this information in my possession, carefully worked out for three months. It is something like this: In the State of West Virginia they select, for instance, production. They put a tax of two-fifths of one per cent on coal, oil, gas, limestone, sand, logs and timber. In the State of Pennsylvania, such a production gross sales tax would be on every natural resource of the State. Then they have a gross tax of one-fifth of one per cent on all manufactures, that is, the gross receipts of all manufacturing concerns. Then they have a tax of one-fifth of one per cent on real estate and personal property sales. Then, they have a special tax on profits on goods sold at wholesale. Then, they have a tax of one-fifth of one per cent on banks and public utilities, banks, banking institutions, trust companies, railroads, street railways, telephones, telegraphs, oil and pipe lines, water companies, navigation companies, and express companies. These are largely included at the present time, in the 8 mills gross receipts in the State of Pennsylvania, but you will note that the one-fifth of one per cent would only be two mills. Other businesses and professions. Now, in the State of West Virginia, any one having an income of over $10,000 a year, and every business having gross sales of over $10,000 a year would pay a tax of one-fifth of one per cent, or two mills. Now, that is extremely attractive and I would like to see a proposal of that kind made possible in the State of Pennsylvania, but I greatly fear that under the constitution, as it is now, it will be impossible. Consequently, I think that two things ought to be done yet by this Legislature. I think that this Legislature ought to adopt a joint resolution proposing to the people the exemption possibilities under the constitution, of exemptions for tax purposes. It is not absolutely necessary to have graded and progressive taxes. My colleague, Miss MacKinney, introduced a resolution in the House, and it has passed here and I do not know whether it has passed the Senate, but it should, providing that there shall be an exemption on inheritances, but that is as far as it goes; and if you want to impose another sort of tax, a personal income tax, or if you want to impose a sales tax, it is necessary to have exemptions on other forms than inheritance taxes. Another thing that we should do at this session is to have a very careful study of the entire tax problem. Such a resolution, providing for that, went through this House and went over into the Senate and will come up for action next Monday evening. It occurs to me that it is absolutely out of the question to get anywhere with our whole tax question until we sit down and have experts go into and analyze all the systems of taxation and find out wherein our system is weak, for it is said to be archaic, it is said to be ancient, it is said to be out of date. Well, we pride ourselves in the State of Pennsylvania very much, and our fiscal officers go to conventions in other states and arise and make beautiful speeches and inform their hearers that in the State of Pennsylvania our kind-hearted, generous, open-handed corporations pay all of the taxes. Now, in the State of Pennsylvania, the corporations do pay sixty per cent of all the taxes that go into the general fund, and they ought to be applauded and lauded for this, rather than be berated and cuffed for it; but do you know this one fact, that these rates which are put into effect in the laws of 1873 and then in the laws of 1879 and the laws of 1889 have never been increased since they have been put into effect. Why, out in our town and in the localities where each one of you live, you have a tax duplicate and when your school board needs more money they proceed to add an extra mill or two or three, and when your county needs more money they add a few mills more. They don't find it necessary, in fact they don't find it possible to select other subjects of taxation. Now, my attitude is this, that the corporations of the State of Pennsylvania have been paying the same rate of tax everywhere, these many years, although the expenses of the State have greatly increased, and not alone because of extravagance and joy rides. I am not going to stand here and subscribe to the idea that the State of Pennsylvania today is plunged deeply into debt because of some great extravagance that has been practiced in the past. I want to say to you that I was a member of this Assembly in 1919 and in 1921. We might have done some things in those sessions which ought not to have been done; our hindsight is always better than our foresight, but I have no apology to make for a solitary thing that I did during those sessions. I am not accustomed to make apologies; I take my medicine for my sins and try to reform, and that is the thing that I am doing in this present session of the Legislature. Let me point out to you, men and women of this House, this fact, that while in 1900 we had a State expenditure of $12,000,000, in 1922 we had an expenditure of $56,000,000. There are many things that contributed to that besides the overtopping and top-heavy, extravagant expenditures that some charge against the government. Now what are those other things? It is a fact that in 1913 we gave $6,000,000 to roads, we gave, in 1915, $8,000,000 to roads in 1917, we gave $18,000,000 for roads, in 1919 we gave $14,000,000, and in 1921, we gave $12,000,000. In 1913 we gave $8,000,000 to schools, and in 1923 we have already passed an appropriation bill, giving $46,000,000 to schools. Now, I want to say to you that the normal increase of expenses incidental to the war is somewhat responsible for the deficit which we have now in our Treasurer's Office and it is also accountable to some extent to the liberality which we have practiced with roads and the liberality which we have practiced to protect the schools; but for one, I am a carrying-on member of this Legislature and I don't believe in stinting or starving our schools, and I don't believe in stinting or starving our roads, and I don't believe in neglecting our poor and indigent unfortunates, and I stand in this Legislature and I would like to see every man and woman in this Legislature stand up to the problem of raising at least $20,000,000 to clear up this thing that we have in the State of Pennsylvania today. Let us not blame it on undue extravagance or corruption of the past; however much there may have been of that I do not know. I have no inside information concerning that, but I do say to you today, that I am working hand in hand with the Governor of this Commonwealth to put across a program of economy and efficiency and retrenchment until we have cut things to the bone and gotten them down where we really have to suffer in our sacrifice therefor, I tell you we must not let the children of the State of Pennsylvania suffer, we must not let the road program go to pieces, nor must we permit our injured and our sick and indigent insane to go uncared for. So, therefore, to carry out the program as we should, I again appeal to you today to come across and help the Ways and Means Committee in some way out of the problem that we face, and that way out, I am afraid, does not consist in the sales tax and I wish to say to you that we would have next week prepared for you, or even in a month from now if you would be willing to stay that long and take a vacation, and come back and face the sales tax and put it across here. I don't believe that with my present inside information, that it would be possible to do so, and so what can we do? I say to you, we presented to you from the Ways and Means Committee, not a makeshift program, not a thing that was made up in a hurry; it was made up after a long and careful and deliberate study. The Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and every member of that committee has, during all of this session done their very best. What did we do? We went out throughout the State of Pennsylvania and asked questions of the proprietors of various newspapers and the editor of the very newspaper which criticized us in this way today we asked for any suggestions he might have by which we might impose taxes in the State of Pennsylvania to raise $20,000,000 to clear away that fiscal mess down in the Treasurer's office and take care of our roads and our schools and our hospitals. I want to say frankly and not necessarily scathingly, because I suppose that he thought it wasn't worth while, since I never received a reply from him, but I did have a reply from several other particular editors in the State of Pennsylvania who gave a real program, and not one solitary man throughout the State of Pennsylvania ever came forward with the sales tax and suggested it, among all of the men that we wrote and ask for suggestions. However, that is not material, because we already had that tax for our consideration. Now, I say to you, we are up against a stone wall with respect to taxes in this State. Are we going home from this session of the Legislature and telling our constituents that we were so helpless that we would be unable to raise taxes? Oh, well, there are other editors who have something to say. The Pittsburgh Post, a newspaper for which I have a great deal of respect, a newspaper that has, during all of this controversy stood up clean and straight and hasn't done any sniping, regardless of its democracy, and it hasn't done any tricky work or any dirty work that I know of. I want to read a passage from the Pittsburgh Post. They say: "With the new tax suggestion rejected, the whole subject of cleaning up the fiscal mess is thrown back to the place of beginning. So far as anything done by the Legislature is concerned, after being in session for nearly five months, the mess has not been touched and there is no program for removing it. Meanwhile, nothing is done for economy. Members of the Assembly press as eagerly as ever for appropriations for their district; for something for their folks back home."

There stands the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. I worked in that committee under him, and I want to compliment him for the fine work he has done as chairman of that committee. He proposed certain things in the committee, he proposed that we keep, for instance, the schools of higher education down within the appropriation of 1921; he proposed that we should not accept the Council of Educations' figures on that, but the appropriations committee immediately added the appropriation, and we did that all along the line throughout the entire scope of these appropriations. We have voted for them readily, we have voted for them willingly, we have voted for them smilingly. We don't know where the money is coming from; we don't know who is going to get it, and we don't know how we are going to get it, but when we bring before you men and women of this House a tax program which we regard as construction, make fun of it as you will, call it a catch-can to get by, if you will, I am saying to you that all of the men of the appropriations committee have voted to raise all of the appropriations, so that we may be liberal with our hospitals and be liberal to our education and raise $38,000,000 for schools and then not be willing to stand up and vote for measures when they come before the House for taxation. The Post goes on and says something like this: "All, of course, agree that the mess ought to be cleaned up, but nothing extra is allowed for removing it, and nothing is dropped in the regular demand for appropriations. Whether it is called lack of courage to face the truth that the deficit will not remove itself and will have to be dealt with as the emergency it is, or lack of business capacity on the part of the majority of the legislators to meet any financial situation of magnitude, the effect is the same. The deplorable and humiliating condition for a great Commonwealth continues". Now, I ask you members of this House, what are you going to do about it?

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman, under his question of personal privilege, will be spread upon the Journal.

SUSPENSION OF RESOLUTION.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution fixing Tuesday as the only day of the week when bills on the postponed calendar may be called up be suspended for the purpose of calling up House Bill No. 36, for the purpose of offering amendments.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Dunn.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 36 entitled:

An Act to regulate the practice of Chiropractic and to provide for the appointment and maintenance of the Board of Chiropractic Examiners To define the powers and duties of said Board of Chiropractic Examiners To provide for the examining and licensing of Chiropractors in this State and provide for penalties for the violation of this act

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 36 passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 10 by inserting after the word "licensed" the following: "as a Drugless Therapist".

Amend section 2, page 3, line 1 by striking out the words "this act" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "the Medical Practice Act of one thousand nine hundred and eleven as a Drugless Therapist".

Amend section 8, page 9, lines 23 and 24 by striking out the words "From and after the approval of this act" and inserting in lieu thereof the following "After January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five".

Amend Section 8, page 10, lines 3 and 4 by striking out the brackets before the word "has" in line 3, and after the word "provide" in line 4.

Amend Section 8, page 10, line 10, by inserting after the word "that" the following: "after January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five

Amend Section 8, page 10, line 12 and 13 by striking out all the words in said lines after the word "College" in line 12 to and including the word "that" in line 13.

Amend Section 8, page 10, line 13 by striking out the word "not".

Amend Section 8, page 10, line 14, by striking out the word "such" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "all".

Amend Section 8, page 11, line 27, by striking out the word "confirm" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "conform".

Amend Section 10, page 12, line 27 by inserting after the word "examiners" the following: "including the standard of professional education".

Amend Section 10, page 13, line 6 by striking out the word "the passage of this act" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five".

Amend Section 10, page 13, lines 8 and 9 by striking out the words "satisfactory to the said Board".

Amend Section 12, page 14, lines 8 and 9 by striking out the words "relating to the control of contagious diseases".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 435, as follows:

An Act to amend clause forty-six of section three of article five of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-eight) entitled "An act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto" as amended giving to said cities the right to exercise the power and authority of local self-government in municipal affairs

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That clause forty-six of section three of article five of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-eight) entitled "An act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation therein" which was amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and ten) entitled "An act to amend and revise an act entitled 'An act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto' approved the twenty-seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen enlarging changing modifying and defining certain of the powers of cities of the third class" is hereby further amended to read as follows

46 To make all such ordinances by-laws rules and regulations as may be expedient or necessary for the proper management care and control of the city and its finances and the maintenance of the peace good government safety and welfare of the city and its trade commerce and manufactures and also all such ordinances by-laws and regulations as may be necessary in and to the exercise of the powers and authority of local self-government in municipal affairs

And all such ordinance by-laws rules and regulations shall have like force and effect as if the power and authority to pass the same had been given in this or any other act

Provided however That no ordinance by-law rule or regulation shall be made or passed which contravenes or violates any of the provisions of the Constitution of the United States or of this Commonwealth or of any act of Assembly heretofore or that may be hereafter passed in force in said city and the said ordinances by-laws rules and regulations to alter modify and repeal at pleasure and to enforce all ordinances by inflicting penalties upon inhabitants or other persons for violations thereof not exceeding one hundred dollars for any one offense recoverable with costs together with judgment or imprisonment not exceeding ninety days if the amount of said judgment and costs shall not be paid

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. MOFFATT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. DAVID J. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 819, as follows:

An Act to amend section six of the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and thirty-eight) entitled "An Act relating to the appointment of persons to the fire department in cities of the third class constituting a civil service board in relation thereto providing for and regulating examinations the manner of appointments and the manner and power of removal of employes of said department and providing a method for fixing compensation of a secretary"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section six of the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and thirty-eight) entitled "An Act relating to the appointment of persons to the fire departments in cities of the third class constituting a civil service board in relation thereto providing for and regulating examinations the manner of appointments and the manner and power of removal of employes of said department and providing a method for fixing compensation of a secretary" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 6 All employes of said department shall be subject to suspension by the superintendent of the department for misconduct or violation of any law of this Commonwealth any ordinance of the city or regulation of the department pending action by the city council upon the charges made against any of such employes and on hearing before the city council where they may be represented by counsel they may be fined or suspended for a period not exceeding thirty days with or without pay or they may be discharged by the city council if found guilty of the charges made against them Provided however That said superintendent of said department may for misconduct or violation as aforesaid suspend any employee of said fire department for a period of ten days with or without pay without preferring charges and without a hearing of council and further Provided however If it should become necessary to reduce the number of men in said department for purposes of economy seniority rights shall prevail and any and all removals for such cause or causes shall be from the members last appointed and the member or members serving the shortest time shall be removed first but members with longer times of service may be discharged for cause

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, an exactly similar bill was presented by Mr. Moffatt relating to the police. You will recall that that bill was defeated and then reconsidered. I was among those who voted both originally and upon the reconsideration against the bill, but as long as the House has passed the bill making the same requirements as to police, it seems to me that we should be consistent and pass this bill so that our regulations as to firemen in these cities, is the same as the police, so that when the bills get to the Senate for its consideration, they can either adopt or reject both, and although I opposed the other bill, as long as it has passed, I hope that this bill will pass so that the position of the House is consistent for the Senate in its consideration of the bills.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of perpersonal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilage.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we are nearing the close of this legislative session and we have a calendar here which we should complete before the last day of final adjournment. Those who have been former members in this House, know that in the last week before the day set for final adjournment, no House bills can be passed; only Senate bills will be acted on in this House. Therefore, if final adjournment is set, according to a resolution passed by this House, for May 31, we know that we have only one more week to complete the work of this House as we wish it completed. Now, I think the Speaker of this House and the members who come here trying to carry out the work of this Commonwealth, should be assisted by all members being here at the various meetings set for the purpose of passing this legislation. I think that not only tonight, but tomorrow and next week every member of this House should stay here, as we do. Some members come on Monday and go away on Tuesday; others come on Wednesday and go away on Wednesday, leaving the House without a quorum. I think it is time for us who stay here to enforce the rules on those who go away neglecting the duties of this House. I hope that we who stay here will see that the rules are enforced, and bring those back who neglect the duties of the Commonwealth.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman on his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1456, (Senate Bill No. 570), as follows:

An Act providing for the temporary transfer of moneys held in certain special funds in the State Treasury for the payment of appropriations payable from the general fund and for the return of said moneys to said special funds

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter all moneys paid into special funds in the State Treasury from whatsoever source derived and to whatsoever purpose dedicated by the laws of the Commonwealth except moneys belonging to the sinking fund the Workmen's Compensation Insurance Fund the State bond road fund the county gasoline tax fund and fund derived from the tax upon the premiums of foreign fire insurance companies the Federal Vocational Education Fund the Industrial Rehabilitation Fund and funds under the control of the retirement board and all moneys in such special funds in the State Treasury at the date of the approval of this act other than those hereinbefore excepted may be temporarily transferred into the general fund of the State Treasury upon order of the Governor in such amounts and for such time and for such specific purpose or purposes as the order of the Governor may direct with the approval of the head of the department board commission or other agency authorized to expend such moneys

Section 2 The State Treasurer and Auditor General shall continue to keep an accurate record upon their books of the amount of money belonging to each special fund which has been heretofore or shall hereafter me dedicated for the purposes for which such special fund was created and in all cases where moneys belonging to such special in lieu thereof fund or funds shall be transferred as provided above the State Treasurer shall on the date stated in the Governor's order repay said moneys from the general fund into the said special fund or funds It is not the intent of this act to abolish any special fund now existing in accordance with law but only to make available temporarily the moneys held in certain special funds for the payment of appropriations payable from the general fund under the conditions specified above

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of House Bill 1456, (Senate No. 570) be postponed for the present.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Such ordinance shall require that the question be submitted to the qualified electors at the next general or municipal election occurring at least sixty days after the enactment of the ordinance

A copy of said ordinance certified by the secretary or clerk of the legislative authority of the city shall be filed with the county commissioners

Section 3 NOMINATIONS OF CANDIDATES FOR COMMISION At the same election a charter commission shall be elected Candidates for the commission shall be nominated by petition filed with the county commissioners at least twenty-eight days before the election The petition of each candidate shall be signed by qualified electors equal in number to not less than two per centum of the total number of qualified electors of the city as shown by the last preceding personal registration of the electors of the city but in no case shall less than one hundred nor more than one thousand signatures be required for the nomination of any one candidate Each petition shall have attached thereto the affidavit of the person or persons circulating the same stating that the signatures thereon were signed in his presence and by the parties themselves and that to the best of his knowledge the persons signing are qualified electors The form of the petition shall be prepared by the secretary or clerk of the legislative authority of the city and copies of such petitions shall be furnished by him to candidates upon application

Section 4 PROCEEDINGS TO SET ASIDE NOMINATION PETITIONS Application to set aside any nomination petition may be made by petition filed in the court of common pleas of the county within five days after the last day for the filing of nomination petitions with the county commissioners and such petitions shall specifically set forth the matters objected to Upon the presentation of any such petition the court shall make an order fixing a time for hearing which shall be not later than ten days after the last day for filing nominotion petitions with the county commissioners The court shall also specify the time and the manner of notice that shall be given to the candidate named in the nomination petition sought to be set aside

No nomination petition shall be set aside except for

(a) Material error or defects apparent upon the face thereof or on the face of the appended or accompanying affidavit or

(b) Material alterations made after signing without the consent of the signers or

(c) Want of sufficient number of genuine signatures of persons qualified with respect to age residence and citizenship to be electors

If the matters objected to are such as are specified in subdivision (a) of this section the court upon hearing the case in its discretion permit amendments within such time and upon such terms as to the payment of costs as the court may specify

In case the petition to set aside a nomination petition is dismissed the petitioner shall pay the whole of the costs of the proceedings including all witness fees

Section 5 FORM OF QUESTION ARRANGEMENT OF NAMES OF CANDIDATES The county commissioners shall cause the question hereinbefore provided for and the names of the candidates for the charter commission to be printed upon the ballot to be used at this election in the form and manner provided by the laws governing general or municipal election The names of the candidates shall be printed on the ballot without any party designation The position of the names of the candidates upon the ballot shall be determined by the drawing of lots at a time and place fixed by the county commissioners

Section 6 NUMBER OF CANDIDATES TO BE VOTED FOR MEMBERSHIP OF COMMISSION TIE VOTES Each qualified elector shall be entitled to vote for ten candidates only and the fifteen candidates receiving the highest respective vote shall be declared elected and shall constitute the charter commission In case of a tie vote between two or more candidates the person to be entitled to membersship on the commission shall be selected by the casting of lots before the prothonotary of the county at a time and place to be fixed by him

Section 7 VACANCIES Vacancies in the membership of the commission caused by death resignation removal from the city or otherwise shall be filled by the remaining members of the commission

Section 8 EFFECT OF NEGATIVE AND MAJORITY VOTES ORGANIZATION OF COMMISSION If a majority of the qualified electors voting on the question "shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter for the government of the city of..........?" shall vote in the negative then no further proceedings shall be had and all proceedings theretofore had shall be of no effect If a majority of the qualified electors so voting shall vote in the affirmative then the mayor of the city shall fix a time and place and call a meeting of the members of the charter commission within thirty days after said election and at such meeting the commission shall organize and proceed to frame a charter for the government of such city No member of the commission shall receive any compensation for his or her services on said commission All meetings of the commission shall be open to the public except when the commission may desire an executive session

Section 9 FRAMING OF PROPOSED CHARTER AND BALLOT QUESTIONS SIGNING FILING AND DISTRIBUTION OF OFFICIAL DRAFT SEPARATE AND ALTERNATIVE PROVISIONS The charter commission thereupon shall proceed to frame a charter for the government of the city for submission as one proposal or as one main proposal and separate proposals for severable or alternative provisions

The commission shall prepare an official draft setting forth the text of the proposal or proposals submitted by it for vote of the qualified electors together with the form of the question or questions to be printed on the ballot The commission shall endeavor to frame each separate proposal and ballot question so as to avoid any conflicts among provisions which may be adopted by vote of the qualified electors and so as to show on the ballot when a proposition must fail with another proposition Should two or more propositions adopted by vote of the qualified electors be found to conflict the proposition receiving the largest number of votes shall control as to all matters in conflict

The official draft shall be signed by at least a majority of the members of the commission Not later than nine months after the election of the commission the commission shall file this draft with the secretary or clerk of the legislative authority of the city and he shall cause it to be recorded at length in the minutes or also transmit a correct copy of the question or questions to be placed on the ballot to the county commissioners or other authority charged with the preparation of the ballots upon which the questions are to be placed at least thirty days before the election at which the questions are to be submitted

The commission shall cause the official draft of its proposal and ballot questions to be printed in pamphlet form and in such number as the commission shall determine Said pamphlets shall be deposited with the secretary or clerk of the legislative authority of the city at least seventy days before the election hereinafter provided for and shall by him be distributed to qualified electors of the city upon application The commission shall make such further provisions as it may deem necessary for giving to the qualified electors of the city information concerning its proposals

Section 10 SUBMISSION OF PROPOSED CHARTER The charter so framed shall be submitted for approval to the qualified electors of the city at the general or municipal election next succeeding the one at which the commission was elected

Section 11 EFFECT OF CHARTER ON EXISTING LAWS Such proposal or proposals as are approved by a majority of qualified electors voting thereon subject to the exceptions provided herein shall become the organic law of the city at such time as may be fixed therein and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof So far as the same is consistent with the grant of powers and the limitations restrictions and regulations hereinafter prescribed it shall supersede any existing charter and all acts or parts of acts affecting the organization government and powers of such city which are in conflict therewith All existing acts or parts of acts and ordinances affecting the organization government and powers of the city not in conflict with the organic law so adopted shall remain in full force No contract existing at the time of the adoption of a charter by a city under the provisions of this act shall be affected thereby but such contract shall have the same force and effect and be of the same validity as if such charter had not been adopted

Section 12 RECORDING AND FILING OF CHARTER PRINTING IN PAMPHLET LAWS The secretary or clerk of the legislative authority of the city shall forthwith cause the said charter as approved by the qualified electors to be recorded in the ordinance book of the city and in the office of the recorder of deeds of the proper county or counties in a book to be provided and kept for that purpose He shall also file a certified copy thereof in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the text thereof shall be published as an appendix to the pamphlet laws subsequently published

Section 13 CONDUCT OF ELECTIONS RETURNS CERTIFICATE OF ELECTION All elections provided for in this act shall be conducted by the election officer for such city in accordance with the laws governing general elections The election officers shall count the votes cast and make return thereof to the prothonotary of the county The result of any election shall be computed in the same manner and by the same return board as is provided by law for the computation of other returns at any such election Certificates of the result of any such election shall be filed by the prothonotary with the city council or other legislative authority of the city and with the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the certificates of election shall be by him given to the candidates elected to any charter commission

Section 14 NOTICE OF ELECTIONS At least thirty days' notice of each election herein provided for shall be given by proclamation of the mayor A copy of such proclamation shall be posted at each polling place of the city and shall be published in each daily newspaper of the city once a week for four successive weeks prior to the election

Section 15 EXPENSES PAID BY CITY The expenses of the charter commission including the cost of publishing and distributing the commission's proposal or proposals and all other expenses incurred in connection with any proceedings hereinbefore provided for when not otherwise provided for by law shall be paid from the city treasury and the appropriating authority of the city shall provide therefor

ARTICLE II

NEW CHARTERS AMENDMENTS

Section 20 INITIATION PROCEEDINGS "Any charter adopted under the provisions of this act may be amended or replaced by a new charter" through the medium of a commission in the same manner as is hereinbefore provided for the adoption of a charter Amendments to any charter "adopted under the provisions of this act" may also be proposed by a two-thirds vote of the city council or other legislative authority of the city or by a petition filed with the city council or other legislative authority of the city setting forth the proposed amendment or amendments and signed by qualified electors equal in number to not less than twenty per centum of the total number of qualified electors registered in the city at the preceding general or municipal election but in no case shall more than twenty-five thousand signatures be required

Section 21 QUALIFIED ELECTORS TO VOTE ON AMENDMENTS All amendments proposed by the council or other legislative authority of the city or by petition of qualified electors shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the city for adoption at the next general or municipal election occurring at least ninety days after such proposal by the city council or other legislative authority or the filing of a petition by qualified electors

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 40 VALIDATION OF CHARTER PROCEEDINGS No charter or any amendment to an existing charter when adopted by a majority vote of the qualified electors of any city voting at any general or municipal election shall be declared invalid or be set aside on account of any defect error or omission in the proceedings for the adoption of any such charter or amendment and all such proceedings after such adoption shall be and are hereby validated

Section 41 CONSTRUCTION OF ACT The provisions of this act are declared to be severable and if any of its provisions are declared unconstitutional such decision shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared as a legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein

Section 42 "REPEALER" All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the Bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker I move that further consideration of House Bill No. 254, file folio 6929, be postponed for the present.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is no reason why this House should not now proceed with the calendar. There is a very fair attendance here this evening, and if there are any bills called up to which objection is made, the bills can be regularly postponed. It has been the custom of the House on many occasions to act on its third reading and final passage calendars when there were fewer members in the House than there are at the present time. I can see no reason why we should not proceed now with the regular business.

POLL OF THE HOUSE.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman of course is aware of the consequences if a roll develops less than a quorum.

The Seargeant-at-arms will present himself at the bar of the House. The Chair directs you to close the bar of the House.

All those who are not members will retire from the floor of the House or be in contempt of the House. Those who are members of the House will be in their seats or be in contempt of the House.

The Clerk will call the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified as follows:

The SPEAKER. One hundred and nine members being present, constituting a constitutional majority, the Sergeant-at-arms is directed to open the bar of the House.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1421, (Senate Bill No. 268), as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article four section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania prohibiting after adjournment the appointment to office of any person whose nomination the Senate failed to confirm

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That section eight of article four be amended by adding thereto the following

No person nominated for any office for the advice and consent of the Senate whose nomination was rejected by the Senate shall be appointed during the ensuing recess of the Senate to any office to which the advice and consent of the Senate is required by the Constitution or the laws of the Commonwealth except Justice of the Peace or Notary Public

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. LUDLOW. In fairness to the sponsor of the bill and in view of the relatively slight number here, I move that House Bill 1421, (Senate Bill 268) be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. EACHES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1149 (Senate Bill No. 346), as follows:

An Act authorizing the sheriffs of the several counties of this Commonwealth to organize themselves into a State Association for the purpose of holding annual meetings to secure more uniformity and co-operation in the conduct of their offices and providing for the payment of certain expenses in connection with such meetings by the various counties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act the sheriffs of the several counties of this Commonwealth are hereby authorized to organize themselves into a State Association with power to hold annual meetings at such time and place within the State as they may designate for the purpose of securing more uniformity and co-operation in the conduct of their offices and improving their services to the public

Section 2 Except in counties of the sixth seventh and eighth each sheriff or deputy sheriff or solocitor representing any sheriff shall be allowed all reasonable expenses including hotel bill and travelling expenses actually incurred going to attending and returning from any annual meeting of the Association but not in excess of fifty dollars in any one year which shall be paid by the county of which he is an officer by orders drawn on the Treasurer thereof The time spent in attending such meetings shall not be more than three days exclusive of the time employed in travelling thereto and therefrom The expenses of the annual meetings of the Association including any necessary amount for printing committee meetings and stenographic service shall except in counties of the sixth seventh and eighth classes be paid by the proper counties but shall not exceed Twenty-five dollars for each county the sheriff of which is a member of said Asociation In any county of the sixth seventh or eighth class the sheriff of which may be a member of said Association the county commisioner may allow like expenses to such sheriff or his representative for attending any such annual meeting and may join with the other counties aforesaid in sharing the expenses of such meetings to the extent aforesaid

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 1149, (Senate Bill 346) be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives, numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 112.

An Act to amend section five of the act approved June 17, 1913, (P. L. 507) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and County purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property, providing for the assessment and collection of the same, providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes providing for the assessment of property and the collection of taxes, interest and penalties in cases of the refusal or failure of taxables to make return and in the case of false or incomplete returns.

With the information that the Senate has passed the passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 5, line 28, by striking out the words, "a penalty of fifty per centum thereon and."

Amend section 1, page 6, line 11, by striking out the words, "a penalty of fifty per centum and".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the members of the House that this is one of the bills that I had the pleasure of introducing for the purpose of strengthening the collecting of personal property taxes. I feel that the amendments of the Senate will strengthen this bill. It strikes out that part which was undoubtedly unfair, therefore I feel sure we can vote for it in this form.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives, numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1337.

An Act providing a method for deciding a tie vote in borough councils

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, line 6, by striking out the word "agree" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "enact or pass any ordinance".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendment made by the Senate?

Mr. DAVID J. JONES. Mr. Speaker, the amendments made by the Senate are not satisfactory, and I move that the House do non-concur.

Mr. MOFFATT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 262.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, nonconcurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 262, entitled:

An Act to amend part of section one of the act approved the tenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and fifty-five) entitled "An Act to fix the number of Representatives in the General Assembly of the State and to apportion the State into representative districts as provided by the Constitution"

And has appointed Messrs. Weaver, Baldwin and Homsher a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (If the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its nonconcurrence in the amendments made by the Senate and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

Mr. COLDSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as such Conference Committee the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle; the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kelly; and the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Post.

Ordered that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Mr. STAVITSKI. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1268, file folio 6427, entitled:

An Act prohibiting the appointment of certain persons as police officers game protectors fish wardens and detectives was defeated on final passage on Wednesday, May 9, 1923, be reconsidered.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I am informed that the only reason for asking for a reconsideration is for the purpose of amendment, and for that reason, in the interest of the sponsor of this bill, I ask the House to vote to reconsider at this time.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to decide.

Whereupon, a division was called for, and 89 members having voted in the affirmative, and 21 in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STAVITSKI. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STAVITSKI. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, line 1, by inserting before the word "police" the word "State"

Amend title, line 2, by inserting after the word "protectors" the word "and"

Amend title, line 2, by striking out the words "and detectives"

Amend section 1, page 1, lines 9, 10, 11 and 12, by striking out all of said lines

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough), in the Chair.

PRAYER.

Rev. A. W. Brownmiller, pastor of the Harris Street Evangelical Church offered the following prayer:

Our Father in Heaven, from everlasting to everlasting Thou art God; before the mountains were brought forth, whereever Thou hast formed the earth and the world, from everlasting to everlasting Thou art God; our hope and confidence is in Thee. We pray Thy blessing upon all those who are in authority, on the President of the great United States, upon the Governor, upon every member of this House, upon all those who are leading the people. Help us to remember that we live in deeds, not years, in thoughts, not breaths, in feelings, not in figures on a dial. Help us to count time with heart-throbs and remember that they live most who think most, feel the noblest and act the best. Lead us gently and kindly by Thine own hand and by Thine own gracious spirit and bring us to our rest in heaven after while, for Thy name's sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Driggs, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

The first, second, third, fourth and fifth sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever in a will executed heretofore or hereafter and proved in the office of the register of wills there is a devise of real estate or any interest therein to one or more persons upon a trust for purposes stated whereby it is to be divided either immediately or in the future among two or more persons designated by the testator or to be ascertained as directed by him or to be designated and ascertained by others to whom the testator has given a power of appointment for such purpose and the time for such division has arrived and the trustee in the will has died without having made such division it shall be lawful for the persons among whom the division of the realty or of interests therein is to be made and in case any of them have died or conveyed or otherwise disposed of their right title or interest under the will of the testator their heirs devisees and successors in right title and interest to make an amicable division or partition among themselves according to their several rights or to agree that they shall hold the same as tenants in common in such proportions as they shall agree upon to be stated in the agreement Provided however That no agreement for the division or partition of or for holding land as tenants in common under the provisions of this act shall be entered into unless all of the persons interested in the land at the time of doing so are of full age and competent to act nor until the expiration of the time when by law a will devising realty is conclusive as to such real estate nor in case a suit to determine the validity of the will under or through the parties claim be pending until its validity shall have been established

Section 2 The agreement provided for in section one shall state the name of the testator the date of his decease the county wherein and the date when the will was proved and established the name of the trustee or trustees to whom the land was devised in trust and the fact and the date of their death without having made division of the real estate or of the interests therein mentioned or any conveyance thereof under the trust that the persons executing it are of full age and competent to act and are the only persons interested in the land under the will of the testator or by title or right derived from or through it the location and a description of the land devised and to be divided and of the purparts into which it is divided if it is divided into purparts reference to the place of record of all written instruments and of all legal or equitable actions or proceedings and a statement of material facts not of record if any through or under which the right or interest of each person executing it was acquired and exists together with a reference to the statute under which the agreement is executed The agreement shall be subscribed by the parties each of whom shall be qualified to the truth of the contents thereof before an officer authorized to administer oaths

Section 3 The agreement authorized by the foregoing sections of this act when executed as therein provided shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the orphans' court in the county where the will of the decedent was proved and shall be entered upon the records of the court as of the term thereof when filed and indexed under the name of the decedent as "Agreement for division of devised real estate" With the agreement there shall be filed an affidavit made by one or more of the parties to it setting forth the name and residence of the surviving spouse of the decedent if any and also the names and residences of the next of kin

Section 4 Upon the request of one or more of the persons who executed the agreement provided for in the foregoing sections the clerk of the court shall issue a citation under the seal of the court returnable at the ensuing term if there shall be thirty days between the issuance and the term otherwise to the first Monday of any month occurring thirty days or more after its issuance directed to the spouse and next of kin of the decedent setting forth the purport of the agreement and commanding them to appear in the court and file an answer to the contents of the agreement within fifteen days after service showing cause if any exist why the court should not approve the agreement filed and make a decree that the legal title to the real estate shall vest in the parties to the agreement according to the purparts or proportionate interest stated in it The citation shall be served upon all of the respondents resident within the state by delivering to each a cerified copy and upon those resident without the state either by delivering to each a certified copy or by mailing the same to them by registered mail addressed to their proper or last known address as the clerk of court shall order at the issuance of the citation or later as the case may require If for any reason the original citation cannot be served within the proper time previous to its return-day alias and pluries citations shall be issued by the clerk of the court as occasion may require returnable at such time as he shall direct and be served and returned as herein provided in the case of the original In case service of a citation upon any of the persons in the manner hereinbefore provided cannot be made the court or a judge thereof upon satisfactory proof of the fact shall order that the citation be served by publication thereof in a newspaper of general circulation within the county once each week during three successive weeks the last insertion to be at least one week previous to the return-day Due proof of the service of the citation shall be made and filed with the clerk of the court

Section 5 At the term of court to which the citation is returnable or at a subsequent time as may be necessary or convenient in case an answer has been filed the orphans' court shall examine the agreement and the answer of the respondents and should either of the parties desire it evidence shall be received to establish the truth of the contents of the agreement and in support of the averments in the answer The investigation by the court shall be conducted as nearly as possible according to the practice of the courts in equity trials If upon consideration of the agreement and the answer together with the testimony if such be introduced the court shall find that the contents of the agreement are true it shall enter the decree hereinafter provided but if found not true the agreement shall be ordered stricken from the records of the court In case no answer be filed the court shall approve the agreement of the parties as filed and enter a decree that the legal title to the various purparts of the real estate therein described be vested in the respective persons who executed the agreement as therein stated or in case no division into purparts has been made then to the whole of the real estate as tenants in common and that such title be and remain in them firm and stable Upon the decree having been entered the parties to the agreement shall be vested with the legal title to their respective purparts of the land as the agreement sets forth or if they have agreed to hold the land in common then to the whole thereof as tenants in common in the proportionate interest or shares stated in the agreement and they shall hold and enjoy the same according to the title and estate possessed by the testator at the time of his or her decease and may freely alien convey devise or transmit the same by descent with the same effect as though the legal title had been conveyed to them by the trustee or trustees named in the will of the testator

The sixth section was read as follows:

Section 6 The proceedings provided for by this act when finally entered upon the records of the court shall have the force and effect of a deed of conveyance of the legal title to the real estate described in the agreement as possessed by the devisor and such record shall be notice to purchasers and encumbrances for all purposes A duly certified transcript of such record may be filed in the office of the recorder of deeds in any other county where any of the real estate may be situated and be indexed in the direct index under the name of the decedent and in the adsectum index under the names of the parties to the agreement and the record thereof shall be of like force and effect as the original record

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ZOOK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 6, pages 6 and 7 by striking out the whole of said section, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 6 The proceedings provided for by this act, when finally entered upon the records of the court, shall have the force and effect of a deed of conveyance of the legal title to the real estate described in the agreement, and it was held by the decedent at the time of his decease, and such record shall be notice to purchasers, incumbrances and others for all purposes. A transcript of the proceedings had in the court, exclusive of the testimony taken, if any, certified by the clerk, shall be filed in the office of the register of wills in such county, and be entered at large upon the register's docket under the name of the decedent, and be indexed as "Decree of the Orphans' Court vesting the legal title to devised lands in the devisees". A transcript of such proceedings in the court, exclusively of the testimony, certified by the clerk thereof, shall be filed in the office of the recorder of deeds in each county of the Commonwealth where any of the real estate embraced in the agreement and effected by the decree of the court is situated, and it shall be recorded as conveyances of realty are recorded, and be indexed in the direct index under the name of the decedent, and in the adsectum index under the names of the persons who subscribed the agreement, and be noted in the indices as "Decree of the Orphans' Court vesting title in devisees". A like transcript may be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds in the county where the procedings were had, and be indexed and designated as is herein provided for in other counties.

An Act amending sections one two and eleven of an act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred and three (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and seventy-four) entitled "An act defining the powers of the several courts of quarter sessions of the peace within this Commonwealth with reference to the care treatment and control of dependent neglected incorrigible and delinquent children under the age of sixteen years and providing for the means in which such power may be exercised" providing that the Juvenile Courts in the several counties of this Commonwealth shall have exclusive jurisdiction in all cases of juvenile delinquency.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred and three (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and seventy-four) entitled "An act defining the powers of the several courts of quarter sessions of the peace within this Commonwealth with reference to the care treatment and control of dependent neglected incorrigible and delinquent children under the age of sixteen years and providing for the means in which such power may be exercised" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted etc. That the courts of quarter sessions of the peace within the several counties of this Commonwealth shall have and possess full and exclusive jurisdiction in all proceedings (which may be brought before them) affecting the treatment and control of dependent neglected incorrigible and delinquent children (under the age of sixteen years and for the purpose of this act the words "dependent child" and "neglected child" shall mean any child who is destitute homeless abandoned or dependent upon the public for support or who has not proper parental care or guardianship The words "incorrigible children" shall mean any child who is charged by its parent or guardian with being unmanageable The words "delinquent child" shall mean any child including such as have heretofore been designated "incorrigible children" who may be charged with the violation of any law of this Commonwealth or the ordinance of any city borough or township

The powers of the court of quarter sessions of the peace as provided for in this act may be exercised by any one or more judges of such court who may be assigned for the purpose at a session of said court which shall be known as the juvenile court and all sessions of such juvenile court shall be held separate and apart from any session of the court held for the purpose of its general criminal or other business and the records of the proceedings of such juvenile court shall be kept in a docket seperate from all other proceedings of said court)

Section 2 That section two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 The powers of the court may be exercised

1 Upon the petition of any citizen resident of the county setting forth that a child is neglected dependent or delinquent and is in need of the care and protection of the court

2 Whenever any magistrate or justice of the peace (in committing) shall commit a child arrested (for an indictable offense shall certify that in his opinion the good of the child and the interests of the State do not require a prosecution upon an indictment under the criminal laws of the Commonwealth) for any indictable offense other than murder or for the violation of any other law of this Commonwealth or the ordinance of any city borougn or township

(3 Whenever after return made by a magistrate of the proceedings upon the arrest of such delinquent child for an indictable offense the district attorney of the county either before or after the indictment shall certify that in his opinion the good of the child and the interests of the State do not require a prosecution upon an indictment under tb criminal laws of this Commonwealth)

(4 Whenever upon the trial of any indictment of such delinquent child the judge trying the case is of the opinion that the good of the child and the interests of the State do not require a conviction under the criminal laws of this Commonwealth)

Upon the filing of any petition as above set forth or whenever the jurisdiction of the court has attached by the (filing of a certificate of a) commitment of a child by any magistrate or justice of the peace (or the district attorney or by the action of a judge as above set forth) it shall be (within the power) the duty of the judge holding said juvenile court to make all necessary orders for compelling the production of such child and the attendance of the parents and all persons having the custody or control of the child or with whom the child may be and pending the final disposition of any case the child shall be subject to the order of the court and may be permitted to remain in the control of its parents or the person having it in charge or the probation officer or may be kept in some place provided by the for one of its objects the care of delinquent or neglected State or county authorities or by any association having children as the court may order

Section 3 That section eleven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 11 Whenever any child being above the age of fourteen years has been held by any magistrate or justice of the peace for any offense other than murder punishable by imprisonment in a State penitentiary the judge of the juvenile court having jurisdiction if in his opinion the interests of the State require a prosecution of such case on an indictment may certify the same to the District Attorney of the county who shall thereupon proceed with the case in the same manner as though the jurisdiction of the juvenile court had never attached and nothing (herein) in this act contained shall be in derogation of the powers of the courts of quarter sessions and of oyer and terminer to try upon an indictment any delinquent child whose case may as above provided have been certified to the district attorney and who may in due course (may) be brought to trial before such court

Nothing in this act shall be construed to repeal any of the provisions of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof" or the amendments thereto nor to repeal any of the provisions of an act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" or the amendments thereto

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

RESOLUTION.

REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE AUDITOR GENERAL.

Mr. ALEXANDER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted.

In the House of Representatives, May 17, 1923.

Resolved: That the Auditor General of the Commonwealth be requested to furnish to the House of Repersentatives not later than Tuesday, May 22, a report of the finances of the Commonwealth, showing the total estimated revenues for the biennium beginning June 1, 1923 and ending May 31, 1925; together with the total estimated expenditures for the same period and a statement showing the estimated appropriation liabilities which now confront the State; and that as far as possible the Auditor General be requested to furnish the House of Representatives a statement of such appropriation liabilities which in his estimation could be lapsed without seriously imparing the credit or efficency of the Commonwealth.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday evening, May 21, 1923, at 9:00 o'clock.

The motion was agreed to and (at 10:45 o'clock A. M.) the House adjourned until Monday evening, May 21, 1923 at 9:00 o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal

Session 1923 125th of the General Assembly

Vol. 7. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 21, 1923. No. 60.

SENATE

MONDAY, MAY 21, 1923.

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father: We worship Thee as the omnipotent God. Thou dost rule and overrule in the affairs of men. Kings and princes are but as the small dust of the balance before Thee. Thou art the King of kings and Lord of lords. May we hear Thy voice speaking to us as of old: "Be still, and know that I am God; I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth." May we bring our lives into such perfect harmony with Thy will, and may we be so earnest in our faith and obedience, that we can say with honest hearts, "The Lord of Hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge."

We ask it in the Redeemer's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. DAVIS asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Joyce, on account of illness.

PETITION.

PRAYING FOR RELIEF FROM HIGH COST OF SUGAR.

The CHAIR laid before the Senate, comunication from the city council of New Castle, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

City of New Castle, Pennsylvania,
Office of the City Clerk, May 16, 1923.

To The Hon. The Chairman of the Senate, Harrisburg Pennsylvania.

Honorable Sir: Enclosed please find Resolution adopted by the Council of the City of New Castle.

Very truly yours,
C. Ed. Brown,
City Clerk.

C.E.B: C.Z.

Whereas, the price of sugar has risen until now it is and has been for some time past unreasonable and prohibitive and burdensome to the great majority of our people and threatens to become even more distressing since the annual season for canning and preserving fruits and vegetables is fast approaching; and

Whereas, the prohibitive and exorbitant prices are beyond the control of any local dealers and are the result of a national condition either brought about by the high tariff or the operations of speculators and gamblers, which condition should not be tolerated further and must be corrected by the force of the government;

Therefore, Be it Resolved by the Council of the City of New Castle, That His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, and the Legislature of the Commonwealth are hereby petitioned and implored to adopt every means within their powers to bring prompt relief and to transmit to the proper federal officials and bodies an official protest and demand for immediate relief and legal prosecution of guilty persons; and

Be it further Resolved, That the City Clerk is hereby directed to send copies of this resolution, properly certified, to the Governor of the Commonwealth and to the officials of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State Legislature.

I, C. Ed. Brown, City Clerk, of the City of New Castle, Pa., do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of a Resolution adopted by the Council of the City of New Castle, May 11th. 1923, and signed by the Mayor thereof.

In witness whereof I hereunto set my hand and affix the seal of the City this the 16th. day of May, 1923.

C. Ed. Brown,
City Clerk.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO THE PURCHASE OF LAND UNDER THE WEEKS LAW.

Mr. PHIPPS offered the following resolution, which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate, May 19, 1923.

Whereas, The Federal Government in the enactment of the Weeks Law after prolonged inquiry and discussion, in order to meet urgent National needs, adopted the permanent policy of purchasing lands on the watersheds of navigable rivers to be administered as National forests and for the protection and improvement of navigation, and provided for expenditure for that purpose at the rate of $2,000,000 a year; and

Whereas, Owing to the condition of the Federal Treasury resulting from the burdens of the war, the appropriation for said purpose for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, was cut down to $450,000, an amount inadequate to carry out the said policy with economy and efficiency; and

Whereas, The failing timber supply and the expense of transportation have brought the eastern part of the United States to a condition of virtual famine in this fundamental resource wherefore appropriations to correct this condition should be made with increasing liberality and considered as vital to the welfare of the Nation; and

Whereas, This Commonwealth, sensible of its own needs and its duty towards sister states in the matter of timber supply and stream regulation through forest restoration on lands more suitable for that purpose than for other uses, has purchased and is administering as State forests more than 1,130,000 acres of land, chiefly on the watersheds of navigable rivers; and

Whereas, the General Assembly desiring more nearly to meet the need of forest restoration on the remaining 13,000,000 acres of land chiefly valuable for forest production within the borders of the Commonwealth has initiated at this present Session an amendment of the Constitution of the Commonwealth to authorize a bond issue of $25,000,000 for the purchase of approximately 5,000,000 additional acres of land for State forest which will be located chifely on the watersheds of navigable streams;

Now therefore, be it Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring) That it is hereby recommended and respectfully urged upon the President, the Congress and the Federal Budget Bureau that expenditures for land purchased under the Weeks Law at the rate of $2,000,000 per year be resumed beginning with the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, as the minimum present contribution consistent with the performance of National duty toward the States and the people in this matter; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the following officers of the United States: The President, The President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, the Chairman of the National Forest Reservation Commission, the Chairman of the Select Committee of the Senate on Reforestation; also to each Senator and Representatives representing the Commonwealth in Congress.

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT, Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

(a) A thing is done "in good faith" within the meaning of this act when it is in fact done honestly whether it be done negligently or not

Section 2 (Application of Payments made to Fiduciaries) A person who in good faith pays or transfers to a fiduciary any money or other property which the fiduciary as such is authorized to receive is not responsible for the proper application thereof by the fiduciary and any right or title acquired from the fiduciary in consideration of such payment or transfer is not invalid in consequence of a misapplication by the fiduciary

Section 3 (Registration of Transfer of Securities held by Fiduciaries) If a fiduciary in whose name are registered any shares of stock bonds or other securities of any corporation public or private or company or other association or of any trust transfers the same such corporation or company or other association or any of the managers of the trust of its or their transfer agent is not bound to inquire whether the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in making the transfer or to see to the performance of the fiduciary obligation and is liable for registering such transfer only where registration of the transfer is made with actual knowledge that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in making the transfer or with knowledge of such facts that the action in registering the transfer amounts to bad faith

Section 4 (Transfer of Negotiable Instrument by Fiduciary) If any negotiable instrument payable or indorsed to a fiduciary as such is indorsed by the fiduciary or if any negotiable instrument payable or indorsed to his principal is indorsed by a fiduciary empowered to endorse such instrument on behalf of his principal the indorsee is not bound to inquire whether the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in indorsing or delivering the instrument and is not chargeable with notice that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary unless he takes the instrument with actual knowledge of such breach or with knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounts to bad faith If however such instrument is transferred by the fiduciary in payment of or as security for a personal debt of the fiduciary to the actual knowledge of the creditor or is transferred in any transaction known by the transferee to be for the personal benefit of the fiduciary the creditor or other transferee is liable to the principal if the fiduciary in fact commits a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in transferring the instrument

Section 5 (Check drawn by Fiduciard payable to third person) If a check or other bill of exchange is drawn by a fiduciary as such or in the name of his principal by a fiduciary empowered to draw such instrument in the name of his principal the payee is not bound to inquire whether the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing or delivering the instrument and is not chargeable with notice that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary unless he takes the instrument with actual knowledge of such breach or with knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounts to bad faith If however such instrument is payable to a personal creditor of the fiduciary and delivered to the creditor in payment of or as security for a personal debt of the fiduciary to the actual knowledge of the creditor or is drawn and delivered in any transaction known by the payee to be for the personal benefit of the fiduciary the creditor or other payee is liable to the principal if the fiduciary in fact commits a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing or delivering the instrument

Section 6 (Check Drawn by and Payable to Fiduciary) If a check or other bill of exchange is drawn by a fiduciary as such or in the name of his principal by a fiduciary empowered to draw such instrument in the name of his principal payable to the fiduciary personally or payable to a third person and by him transferred to the fiduciary and is thereafter transferred by the fiduciary whether in payment of a personal debt of the fiduciary or otherwise the transferee is not bound to inquire whether the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in transferring the instrument and is not chargeable with notice that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary unless he takes the instrument with actual knowledge of such breach or with knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounts to bad faith

Section 7. (Deposit in Name of Fiduciary as Such) If a deposit is made in a bank to the credit of a fiduciary as such the bank is authorized to pay the amount of the deposit or any part thereof upon the check of the fiduciary signed with the name in which such deposit is entered without being liable to the principal unless the bank pays the check with actual knowledge that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing the check or with knowledge of such facts that its action in paying the check amounts to bad faith If however such a check is payable to the drawee bank and is delivered to it in payment of or as security for a personal debt of the fiduciary to it the bank is liable to the principal if the fiduciary in fact commits a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing or delivering the check

Section 8 (Deposit in Name of Principal) If a check is drawn upon the account of his principal in a bank by fiduciary who is empowering to draw checks upon his principal's account the bank is authorized to pay such check without being liable to the principal unless the bank pays the check with actual knowledge that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing such check or with knowledge of such facts that its action in paying the check amounts to bad faith If however such a check is payable to the drawee bank and is delivered to it in payment of or as security for a personal debt of the fiduciary to it the bank is liable to the principal if the fiduciary in fact commits a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing or delivery the check

Section 9 (Deposit in Fiduciary's Personal Account) If a fiduciary makes a deposit in a bank to his personal credit of checks drawn by him upon an account in his own name as fiduciary or of checks payable to him as fiduciary or of checks drawn to him upon an account in the name of his principal if he is empowered to draw checks thereon or of checks payable to his principal and indorsed by him if he is empowered to endorse such checks or if he otherwise makes a deposit of funds held by him as fiduciary the bank receiving such deposit is not bound to inquire whether the fiduciary is committing thereby a breach of his obligation as fiduciary and the bank is authorized to pay the amount of the deposit or any part thereof upon the personal check of the fiduciary without being liable to the principal unless the bank receives the deposit or pays the check with actual knowledge that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in making such deposit or in drawing such check or with knowledge of such facts that its action in receiving the deposit or paying the check amounts to bad faith

Section 10 (Deposit in Names of Two or More Trustees) When a deposit is made in a bank in the name of two or more persons as trustees and a check is drawn upon the trust account by any trustee or trustees authorized by the other trustee or trustees to draw checks upon the trust account neither the payee nor other holder nor the bank is bound to inquire whether it is a breach of trust to authorize such trustee or trustees to draw checks upon the trust account and is not liable unless the circumstances be such that the action of the payee or other holder or the bank amounts to bad faith

Section 11 (Act not Retroactive) The provisions of this act shall not apply to transactions taking place prior to the time when it takes effect

Section 12 (Cases not Provided for in Act) In any case provided for in this act the rules of law and equity including the law merchant and those rules of law and equity relating to trusts agency negotiable instruments and banking shall continue to apply

Section 13 (Uniformity of Interpretation) This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it

Section 14 (Short Title) This act may be cited as the Uniform Fiduciaries Act

Section 15 (Inconsistent Laws Repealed) All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 2902 Other Acts Repealed All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed including all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith enacted at this session of the General Assembly and approved by the Governor or passed notwithstanding the Governor's veto prior to the passage of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, the bill under consideration is the Administrative Code. I know full well that this bill is going to pass and that in opposing its passage I am leading a forlorn hope, but it is not the first time that the undeniable justice of the course that I have taken permits me to continue the fight, although defeat stares me in the face.

I consider the bill under discussion the wickedest piece of legislation that has ever been presented to a legislative body in this state. Mr. President, I wish to say that I have no quarrel with my fellow Senators who are not going to vote as I do. I concede to them the same right I claim for myself, the right to vote as I think proper. I do not claim to be always correct and I am always willing to concede to my fellow Senators the right to differ with me. What I shall have to say about this legislation is not intended to be taken in any personal sense by any member of this body. The reason that impels me to vote against this measure and to lift my voice, weak as it is tonight, in opposition to it, the same reasons that lead me to oppose it now, which seem good to me, may not appeal to you, but the reasons that lead you to vote for it and speak for it, if you will, are no doubt sufficient in your minds to justify your course, and with you I have no quarrel.

Mr. President, I believe that every member of this body acts from an honest and honorable conviction and I have no intention of casting the slightest reflection upon any of your motives in supporting or failing to support this legislation. Mr. President, I also wish it to be understood at the beginning of my remarks that I am not an administrative beggar and that I am not opposed to this administrative code because of opposition to the present administration. I say to you now what I said to Governor Pinchot when he stood me up as he stood the rest of you a year ago, that I shall support him when I think he is right and oppose him when I believe him to be wrong. I supported his administration enforcement code because I thought I should. I shall be glad to vote for his $250,000.00 for prohibition enforcement because I thing it is necessary to run his enforcement machine and so we have given it to him. I supported other of his measures because I thought they were just but I am opposed to this code because I am convinced that it is absolutely wrong. I am opposed to the lump sum appropriation idea in his budget and when the opportunity comes expect to cast my vote against it. Mr. President, I claim for myself the same right I am willing to concede to the Governor and members of this body, and I find no fault with any official of this government, either in the Executive or the legislative branches of it, to act from the same motives.

Mr. President, I make no claim to having all the wisdom of the world, and neither am I willing to concede, gentlemen of the Senate, that those who prepared this Administrative Code enjoy all the wisdom of the world. Mr. President, also I wish to say that I am not one of those who think that this good old Commonwealth of ours is going to hell so fast that you cannot see it for the smoke. I have no patience with citizens of this Commonwealth who go about calamity howling, who say that this grand old Commonwealth of ours that has grown to be such an empire, is fast crumbling to decay, is rotten and corrupt to the core and not a fit place to live in. It is the greatest and the grandest and the best old State in the Union. It stands at the top in its material resources, in its industries, in its agriculture, in its natural resources and in the excellency of its government, and those who go about crying that it is everything else and anything else, and everything that is rotten and mean and miserable and damnable, are—I almost said traitors to their Commonwealth. I think it is a pretty good old place to live in. It has treated me pretty kindly and I see evidence upon every hand of the wisdom,.of the esteem in which it is held, not only by its own citizens but by the citizens of its sister states, and when you say to me that it has grown into such disrepute that we have to burn down ever house to kill a few of the vermin, I cannot subscribe to that doctrine. I am willing to admit, my fellow Senators, that some reorganization would not do any harm to Pennsylvania's government. In all honesty and candor, I must say to you that I know, and so do you know who have done service in this body, that in many instances there is duplication of effort, that in many places there are more employes than there are duties to perform, that there are some parts of our governmental institutions that are out of date and need reform, but I say to you that every one of those matters can be corrected without overturning the very principle upon which our government has been founded, and under which we have grown so great.

What does this bill do? Well, you might say that I have a lot of objections to it and that is correct, but the bill might be amended to remove some of those objections if it were not for this, and this is the big thing in it, the thing that is wrong, that cannot be amended out of it, and that makes it wicked. It provides a complete and absolute centralization of power in the hands of the Executive. Gentlemen of the Senate, I want you to remember that in the consideration of what this bill means and what its effect will be, you must think also at the same time of these provisions of the budget with its lump sum appropriation, and I want to remind you also that in applying the test to this bill you must not say that because we have done a thing heretofore it is right, or because we have omitted to do anything heretofore it is wrong. The test that you must supply is whether the thing proposed to be done now is right or is wrong, without consideratioon as to whether we have done it before or not.

This biill, and I do not think anybody will deny it, absolutely abolishes every statutory office in the Executive department of the government. It also abolishes every statutory salary. I do not ask you to take my word, although the word of a Senator ought to be good among his fellow Senators. The bill authorizes the Governor, through his department heads, to appoint as many officers, agents, deputies, assistants, employes or whatever you may wish to call them, as he may see fit, and pay them whatever salary he may wish to pay them, and have them perform whatever duties he pleases, and if there is anybody here to deny that statement I pause to give him an opportunity to do so now. Is that complete centralization of power? Is that an oligarchy, built upon the foundation of a democracy?

Mr. President, I am willing to concede to every dead snake the right to wiggle its tail an hour after the sun has gone down, but the sunset on government by edict in this Commonwealth ended in 1776, and it is a crime against our people to revive it under the guise of this administrative code. I would be willing to support any reorganization bill that would correct the abuses that we all know exist, but I am not willing to barter the great principals of democracy upon which we built this imperial Commonwealth of ours, to do what they propose doing in this bill. That is the thing that is wrong with this code. That is the thing that cannot be corrected and that is why I am opposed to it. I will go farther and say that everybody that I have spoken to, and this includes a lot of people who are going to vote for this code, Mr. President, have said to me that it is wrong, and not one man has said that it is right. You remember two years ago when we took our first step in this direction, when we created the Department of Welfare, with its board and extensive powers, every newspaper in this state called us all the names they could lay their pens to, criticized us from one end of the Commonwealth to the other, and they were right. Why they look with complacence upon a much greater crime now, I do not know. We made the wrong start and now we are following it up with a ten fold greater crime. I will anticipate a question: Yes, I voted for the creation of the Welfare Department, gentlemen, and I have repented ever since, and I have taken a great deal of consolation in the fact that that old book that we read sometimes out west of the Allegheníes, says that if I repent even at the eleventh hour and promise to sin no more, there will be help for me. Well they are making the Welfare Department a great deal worse under this Code than it was before, but I have stopped going in that direction, I am sorry I took the first step and I have turned my back on it, while there was yet time. Well, somebody will say the only thing we want under this Code is fiscal control. You know that is a nice sounding word, fiscal control. The only thing that is the matter with it is that it is not what it means. Fiscal control means control of your pocketbooks, domination and nothing else. The fellow that controls your income and your outgo, your bread and butter, the substance upon which you live, controls you more absolutely and certainly than you could be controlled in any other way in the world, and that is what they seek here, and when they say to you "all we want is fiscal control," I say that is a great deal more than you ought to have.

I can take up your time and I can wear out my already overtaxed throat by pointing out inconsistancy after inconsistancy in this bill but what would it avail me? I can talk about the glaring inconsistancies, for example, of placing the Board of Pardons in the office of the District Attorney, because that is what the Attorney General's Department becomes under this bill, just the office of a prosecuting attorney. Why did we constitute the office of Attorney General under the constitution of 1873? We look upon the Attorney General as the legal advisor of the Department heads of this State, man occupying a high and exalted position among the legal luminaries of the State, from whom much might be expected. Now he becomes a common prosecutor under this bill, the head of the Department of Justice, whose principal duties under the code are to run around little counties of the State prosecuting petty crimes and misdemeanors. He becomes a prosecuting attoreny and you are going to put the Board of Pardons into the hands of the prosecuting attorney. Think of it! Asking the man who tries your case to dispense acts of grace and mercy. A fat chance you would have to get a square deal in a case like that. But they say they are also going to have him codify the laws. I say to you that that is an iniquity. He does not have any business codifying laws. Lawmaking is for the Legislature, gentlemen of the Senate, not for the Attorney General, or the other branch of the Executive Department of the Government. When the legislators of Pennsylvania want laws codified they will codify them or create commissions under their authority to do the work, not delegate the general power of codification of laws to the Attorney General's Department, and they ought to be ashamed to ask such a grant at our hands. I could go further and point out to you the section and the page number where I know they are asking you to pass under this administrative code things that you have already turned down this session in this Senate Chamber. Maybe you have not read it as carefully as I have, and maybe you do not know that section after section that you struck out of the game code in that little committee room upstairs after days and weeks of hard work, are in here again, and that you are going to enact them into law, sneak them in through the back door after they have been taken out of the code;—and section after section in the same code struck out by the House are in here now being reenacted, wrapped up in the 2800 and some odd sections that there are in this bill, where you can only find them after days and nights and weeks of the hardest kind of work.

I could go ahead and point out to you the ripper features of it, the Board of Registration of Nurses and many others ripped out in order that someone's desire to have a free hand and do as they please might be gratified, and without any earthly reason for it. I might point out to you that this session you passed an act in this Senate Chamber repealing the act creating the Department of the Board of Engineers and Land Surveyors and I am pointing out to you that it is back in here again, and that you are going to pass it again in this administrative code and dozens and dozens of similar instances that you do not know are there or you would not vote for the code.

But there are more serious objections than that, much more serious. While we are talking about these things and about the idea of fiscal control, let us stop and think for a moment. By the adoption of the constitution of 1873. the Governor appointed the chief fiscal officers of this Commonwealth, the Auditor-General, and the State Treasurer, and the people who adopted that Constitution thought it was unwise that the control of the financial affairs of the State should be in the hands of any one man and they took away the right to appoint those fiscal or financial officers, if you please, and make them elective, and now you are asked to substitute for the will of the people, their matured consideration in the adoptioon of such a solid and binding and strong and enduring a thing as the Constitution, in the appointment of the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the chief fiscal officer of the State and the taking away from the elective financial officers of this State, their powers and duties, and placing them in the hands of the appointive officers, right back to the Executive from whom the same powers were taken by the people, because they feared too great authority in the Executive Department, but you are putting that back now and along with it you are reducing the compensation of the Auditor-General and the State Treasurer. Fellow Senators, I am not sure of the exact amount, and I will not say positively because I do not know for a certain, but my best judgment is that you are reducing their salaries by $1,200.00 a year under the provisions of this code.

Why should the Secretary of the Commonwealth, under the provisions of the Constitution which, strange as it may seem to some gentlemen, still exist, I will admit that you will hardly believe it after what has happened recently, but it does, he was intended to be a filing and transcribing clerk and that is all the duties that were given to him under the Constitution, and that is all that he is intended to be, but his power has been growing little by little, little by little it has been added to until he has become of one of the most powerful figures on Capitol Hill. But still he has not enough and hungry for more and more power and dominion, they are playing him up like the frog that you read about in the fables of old, you are making him bigger and bigger and bigger every day and now you are gonig to permit him to appoint the officer only to be the chief fiscal officer of the Commonwealth as well. I say you are going to, I am not going to help you, but you are going to do it anyhow, but I get a whole lot of consolation Mr. President, out of imposing my ideas upon you anyhow. In fact I got up out of a sick bed in order that I might tell you my ideas about these things.

That is the story, what is the use of going ahead? Those are some of the smaller objections to the Code that I have just lately been talking about but the chief objection that I mentioned first is the one that it is possible to cure. The Republican organization of the State has created the Welfare Department, the first step towards government by oligarchy. That is centralization of power. That is a getting away from the principle of home rule that every candidate, including the present Executive, praised so highly on the stump in the campaign recently, departing from that principal of home rule and after election went down to an inglorious defeat and I say to you, my republican friends that, if the Republican party of Pennsylvania writes upon the Statute books this Code, centralizing power as it does, taking away the last vestige of what yet remains in hands of the representatives of the people and concentrating it in the hands of one man, if you do that a democrat will sit at the other end of this Capitol at the next Gubernatorial election and you will have no one to thank but yourselves for that.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate, if you pass this bill you might just as well pass a resolution because you will invest in the Governor of this Commonwealth more power than is enjoyed by the ruler of any civilized nation in the world today, you might just as well declare our democracy at an end, elect a king and give him the keys of the Treasury and adjourn without pay. That is what it amounts to.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I hardly think that I could add any one particular thought to the speech made by the Senator from Beaver County or a better illustration of the contents of this bill, which is now approaching enactment into law in this Commonwealth, containing its forty two hundred and five sections, with its concentration of power in the executive of this great Commonwealth. If we sit steady for one moment to recognize that eight million people with four elective officers outside of the Judiciary in this Commonwealth, and three out of the four are stripped of every function that is guaranteed to them under the laws of this Commonwealth, and that you convey into the hands of one man, the Governor, power and authority which it was never intended he should be allowed, and I am in thought and judgment a great deal like our present Auditor General, that it will not stand the scrutiny of the courts of the Commonwealth. It is a ripper bill, rips out the power and function guaranteed by Statute into the hands of the Auditor General and State Treasurer as fiscal officers.

I would also call your attention to the proposition of the bids for all the supplies and necessities of this Commonwealth outside of the Highway Department, and also it strikes down traditional commissions, some of them running back to the civil war, men who have been granted an honorable place without cost to this Commonwealth outside of the expense of the Commission, in all the different commissions, regimental and army service, honors that have been looked upon as the greatest that could be handed to man, but in functioning they are stricken down and handed to others and to be created to new appointees under this code.

The Senator from Beaver has shown to you a number of items in this code that you have defeated on this floor, which I acknowledge I have not read, but still they are incorporated into this code. Last Monday evening in the Finance Committee Senator Schantz, to the surprise of the majority of the Finance Committee, showed us there were one hundred positions created in a patrol, given all the powers from the State Constabulary down to a common constable, to do anything that they saw fit to do. The Committee has seen fit to strike that out. We were notified in committee that it would be reinserted in this bill tonight. I have heard no person make any motion yet and I trust they do make it, because I want the Senate to go on record and include in the 4200 sections the one hundred additions to the State Constabulary, but which are called a patrol.

Concentration of power has caused more trouble and will cause more trouble in this state and in this nation than any other one thing that could happen. Striking down the rights of the people to elect their own representatives and then after you have elected them and provided for them constitutionally, such as we have in this state, then come in here and take those powers away from them and hand them over to the Chief Executive and transfer them to his own personal appointees, who do not represent the people, only represent him as their appointees. If that is good government, if that is a democratic government, if such democracy is going to survive, then my knowledge of government ceases, because it is not a government of the people, it is a government of one man. I say again the one thing that we were notified of early and during the campaign both prior to and after the election was cleaning out capitol hill. Now I challenge any member of this Senate to show,—it is now going in the fifth month of the session,—to mention a single thing where it has been shown to us that capitol hill had to be cleaned out. There has not been a piece of legislation outside of this Code and he does not claim this Code is going to clean up the hill; this is a fiscal measure, this is for the fiscal officers to take charge of this government, concentration of one hundred and twenty-five different powers and departments, and we have named in the three weeks that we have had this bill in the neighborhood of two hundred amendments in this very same Code, and I feel safe in saying now that should it pass this Senate, which I believe it will, and go over to the House, and be re-amended again, how many times I do not know, I make this bold assertion that out of fifty members, including myself, there have not been over ten of us who have read fifty pages in it, and still we are going to pass it and hand it over to them. I feel that it is a mistake to the future of this government. I feel further that the average man does not have the physical capacity to be governor of this commonwealth and fulfill the functions of this Code attending to the duties that devolve upon him and his appointees. It will take a superman, an extraordinary superman to give up the time and the attention the Governor is called upon to do, with other troubles and tribulations, and called upon from all over the state and for him to function under the monthly reports to be made, and to sit and preside over the cabinet of eighteen members, I say to you there is not a living man who can do it, or if he does live he will have to be an extraordinary man and we are not called upon to elect extraordinary men, we are called upon to elect competent men, honest men, men of integrity, and we are not called upon to take the power away from the people, and particularly elective officers. The Auditor General of this Commonwealth, the State Treasurer of this Commonwealth and the Secretary of Internal Affairs of this Commonwealth have the same certificate from the people of this Commonwealth who represent them in this government and all the powers and considering the protection that they have taken away from them by this Code they might as well be appointees from the Governor. That is all the power they have.

I trust the members of this Senate will recognize one thing that Senator Craig said, and that is that this is a great Republican state and if we are going to turn this state over to an Individual—do not understand that I am referring to persons, because every Governor has got to be elected, I am speaking of whoever is Governor, there is no personal reflection with reference to the matter, but the people are going to lose their respect for the Republican Party of this Commonwealth and they would after that change their will put in the hands of some other power and that natural course would be to the Democrats. That is my position.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I am going to take up very little time in the discussioon of this Code, because I do not think my voice would change a single vote on the floor of this Senate. I have great respect for my distinguished colleague from Beaver County, who came here tonight at the expense of his health, to deliver a speech in opposition to this Code. I am not a lawyer and I am not going to attempt to discuss the legal phases of this Code. The Code, however, is in line with that which I have believed since I have sat as a members of the subcommittee on the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate of Pennsylvania during the session of 1917. I believed then and I believe now that the state government requires reorganization. I subscribe to those things in which I believed as early as last October that the Governor of Pennsylvania was right. I have endeavored consistently and conscientiously to carry out the subscription that I made to his program at that time, one of which was for a reorganization of the state government. I have something to do with the government during the course and progress of this measure as have many other members of this Senate. I have found him to be not only fair but generous and willing to conform his views to the views of what he believed to be the majority of the Senate in yielding many of the important features of this Code. At the outset it was agreed that the Public Service Commission should function as a bureau. He agreed to wipe out the Code and subscribe to a continuance of the Public Service Commission in the same form in which it has always functioned. It was originally decreed that the State Police should become a Bureau of the Department of Justice, but it was pointed out to him by many of the members of this Senate that in their judgment that would curtail the usefulness of the State Police Force and he very generously subscribed to the continuance of the State Police as a distinctive department, as it has heretofore existed. It was agreed and it was decreed originally that the Department of Mines should become a bureau in the Department of Labor and Industry. Both the mine operators and the mine workers objected to that feature of the Code and he very generously subscribed to letting that department continue to function as a separate and distinct department. It was originally contemplated that the Department of Insurance and the Department of Banking should be formed into a Department of Commerce. When the bankers of the State of Pennsylvania protested through their members of the Senate against that feature of the Code and the insurance men of the state objected, he very generously subscribed to allowing those departments to continue to function. And so I say I would be unfair to the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, I would be unfair to the members of this Senate, did I not point out the facts that he tried to meet honestly and squarely the views of the members of this Senate in the formation of that Code, and it was not his purpose, or the purpose of the framers of the Code, to take from the elective officers of the Commonwealth any of the functions that they now possess. It was decided and decreed that the Department of the Auditor General, the Department of the State Treasurer and the Department of the Secretary of Internal Affairs should continue to function as it was intended by the Constitution that they should function, so that I say, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate that in my judgment the Code is a step in the right direction. I would not undertake to say that it was a perfect Code, because we do not get bills of that character, perfect bills but I say it is a step and an effort, a decided step in the right direction towards securing for the State of Pennsylvania a Code that will benefit the organization of the state government and will enable the state government to function on a more economical and better basis than it has ever heretofore functioned. When it is attempted to point out that it is something new in government I say that is a mistake. The State of Illinois, the State of Iowa, the State of Massachusetts and many other states of the Union have cut down their departments to as low, or a lower basis than the State of Pennsylvania has cut down in numbers, by this Code and the universal information from those states is that it has been advantageous to their state government in an economical and businesslike administration of their state affairs.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, from my viewpoint it does not centralize the power of the Executive to any greater degree than that power is now centralized and when we talk about something entirely new we forget that the same powers were given to the Highway Department of the State of Pennsylvania, to the Health Department of the State of Pennsylvania in years gone by, where those departments were appropriated to in lump sums and where they fix the salaries of the attaches of their respective departments. From my viewpoint that is a proper method of procedure. Our national Government has seen the necessity of coming to a budget system and if it is necessary in the affairs of our nation I think it is equally as necessary in the affairs of our state. The Executive is responsible to the people of Pennsylvania on a platform of reorganization of the state government. He was elected by a majority of 250,000 and in that Code he is only endeavoring to carry out his promise and he is only keeping faith with the people of Pennsylvania in the declaration that he made to them during the campaign.

For these reasons I hope that this Code will pass by a large majority in the Senate of Pennsylvania tonight and will make good the pledges that the Governor made to the people of Pennsylvania in the campaign he made last year.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that this bill, known as the Fisherman's License Bill, which was defeated in this Chamber a couple weeks ago, amends the present law by reducing the age at which a person must take out a fisherman's license before fishing in the streams of the Commonwealth from 21 years of age to 18 years of age. When the bill came up two weeks ago it received but 17 votes in this Chamber. It was reconsidered recommitted to the Committee, reported out and recommitted and is now before the Senate for final passage. When this bill was passed two years ago there was an agreement between the opponents of the bill and Fish Department and other people who were in favor of the bill that the bill should limit the age to 21 years, that people under 21 years of age were not required to take out a license. It was upon that representation and that promise or agreement that the bill was enacted two years ago. Now after it has been in force but two years they come back here and try to break that agreement, and I use those words advisedly, for I know, I was present when the agreement was made, they come back here and try to break that agreement and to force the bill through at a lower age than they agreed to two years ago. I feel that this is a very dangerous piece of legislation. I feel it is a mistake to place this additional burden upon the young men and young women of this Commonwealth by requiring them to take out a fisherman's license and pay money for it when perhaps they may only fish one day in a whole season. As I say, this bill was defeated two weeks ago, it was defeated once when it was in the House, it was defeated once here and I hope it will be defeated here again.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, in the great centers of population they do not have many opportunities for outdoor recreation and particularly for the boys. This bill seems to be specifically directed against that class of young people who occasionally, as the Senator from Bucks County has suggested, quite infrequently, care to participate in this outdoor pleasure and recreation. I hope this bill will be defeated and give the boys of Pennsylvania a fair chance at this recreation.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I think that some of the members of this Senate are certainly looking at this measure in a wrong light. I believe if we would consult the boys and girls over the State of Pennsylvania who fish, and would stop for a moment to think of the condition that we are in as far as propagating the fish in our state is concerned, that we would realize that the only thing that those boys and girls from 18 to 21 years would want would be more fish in our streams. I want to say that this class of fishermen are the ones that spend the most time on the streams, they are the ones that have the best outfit and they are the ones that would most willingly give their dollar or a dollar and a quarter for a license in order to have better fishing. It may not be known that in many of the streams of Pennsylvania, owing to the dry season of last year and the animals that have gone into the streams when the water was low, that the fish are extremely scarce and in order to get the fishing back to the state that it ought to be in, we are in most urgent need of more funds in order to propogate more fish and we have reason to believe that every dollar of this extra money will be used for the propagation of fish. The gentlemen of this Senate know that with the funds that are now in sight, instead of giving the Department of Fisheries more funds in all liklihood they will have less funds to work upon than they had any time in the past, and as I have said, when this matter was up before; we have a Sportsman's Association and I do not know of any one who is interested in fishing who are not exceedingly anxious for the Senate and the House to pass this measure reducing the age from 21 to 18.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I have the honor to represent the district from which the State President of the Sportmen's Association of Pennsylvania comes and I also have the honor to represent the district where they have the largest membership of any city in the State of Pennsylvania and our people are for this bill, because there are more people fishing to-day than ever before and it is absolutely necessary that we get more money for propagation and that the Senate tonight should vote for this bill and pass it.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, having developed into such a successful debater on the floor I am going to try it again. I want to explain why I am going to vote "no" on this bill. I was a party last year to the agreement made that my friend Senator Buckman, has spoken of this evening, and I feel bound by that agreement, and, therefore am going to vote against the bill. I should like to vote otherwise, but I feel bound by my agreement and must vote with Senator Buckman.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I notice two of the Senators mentioned something about an agreement. How could it be possible that any agreement could be made with reference to legislation? Why should two or three men have gotten together a few years ago and decided that they were going to do something and then call that an agreement? It seems to me that there is nothing in that argument about agreement at all.

Now we require everybody to take out a license in order to hunt, that is, each person who wants to hunt must take out a license no matter what their age is. It will prohibit any person from getting a license but certainly that is not a great hardship. In the case of fishing when we permit those under the age of eighteen to fish without a license and place a license on those who are eighteen and over that, as I understand this matter, to protect fish and in order to have fish hatcheries and the means to propagate fish, which is very expensive, and unless more money is provided the number of fish in our streams will become less and less as more people fish each year. This is not going to deprive the boys and girls of fishing, it is going to enlarge the fishing facilities for them, it is going to increase the quantity of fish in streams and give them a better opportunity and while it may be that there are fish in our streams today, the quantity that is continually being taken out each year and that has been taken out in recent years it will only be a few years until there will be practically no fish unless the fish are properly propogated and in order that that may be done they must have funds. It seems to me that this bill should pass.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The 303-317 inclusive, 401-414 inclusive, 501-508 inclusive, 601, 602, 701, 702 and 703 sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to.

Section 303 Any person who is mentally ill may be placed and detained in a hospital for mental diseases by order of the court of common pleas or other court of record of the county in which the said person resides or is or of any law judge of said courts upon a sworn or affidavit application by any responsible person addressed to said courts or judge which application shall be accompanied by a sworn or affirmed certificate of two qualified physicans Said application and certificate shall conform in all respects to the forms prescribed by the Department and be executed not more than two weeks before the same are presented to the court or judge Such procedure may be held at any place in the discretion of the court or judge who may or may not in his discretion require the presence before him of the said mental patient

A certified copy of the order of the court or judge and copies of the application and of the certificate shall accompany the patient and be given to the superintendent in charge of the hospital in which the patient is ordered to be placed The said application certificate and order shall be kept on file in a special docket in the court

Such order shall not authorize the admission of the patient unless he shall be admitted to the hospital within two weeks from the date thereof The superintendent of said hospital shall receive the said patient and may detain him therein until said patient shall have recovered or shall be removed according to law

Section 304 Whenever an application shall be made to a court of common pleas or judge thereof for an order for the admission of any person thought to be mentally ill to a hospital for mental diseases the court or judge thereof may in its or his discretion immediately appoint a commission to inquire into and report upon the facts in the case Such commission shall be composed of three persons two of whom shall be qualified physicians and the other a lawyer They shall in their inquisition hear such evidence as may be offered or as they may require relating to the mental condition of the person whose admission to a hospital for mental diseases is sought as well as the statements of such person or his counsel and shall make a report in writing to the court or judge thereof setting forth whether or not they find that the person in question is in fact mentally ill and a proper subject for admission to a hospital for mental diseases and setting forth the facts on which their conclusion is based

If such commission finds that the person in question is mentally ill and is a proper subject for admission to a hospital for mental diseases and the court or judge thereof shall approve the report of the said commission said court or judge shall thereupon order the person to be admitted to and detained in the hospital named in the application The court or judge may or may not in its or his discretion require the presence in court of the person thought to be mentally ill and the procedure may be held in any place in the discretion of the court or judge

If the person thought to be mentally ill shall refuse to submit himself to an examination by the aforesaid commission the court or judge thereof may issue a warrant for the bringing of said person before said commission for examination

Section 305 The superintendent of any hospital for mental diseases may receive in the hospital of which he has charge and detain for temporary care as a patient for a period not to exceed ten days any person who is or is thought to be suffering from mental illness on the written application to said superintendent by the legal guardian or relative or friend of such person which application shall be accompanied by a certificate of at least one licensed physician that immediate temporary care in a hospital for mental diseases is necessary for such person by reason of mental illness

Said application and certificate shall be given to the superintendent or other officer of the hospital at the time of the admission of the patient

If after the admission of such patient the superintendent shall be of the opinion that the patient does not require such temporary care the superintendent shall discharge said patient or shall notify the said guardian relative or friend on whose application the patient was admitted to forthwith remove the patient from the hospital whereupon it shall be the duty of said guardian relative or friend to remove him and said guardian relative or friend shall be liable to the hospital for the expenses incurred including those for care maintenance and removal

If the said superintendent shall be of the opinion that the patient requires further care the said guardian relative or friend shall before the expiration of said period of ten days cause the patient to be duly committed according to law unless said patient shall have signed a request to remain as a voluntary patient or shall have been removed from said hospital

When such patient is so further committed the cost of such commitment shall be considered to include the expenses incident to his admission for temporary care

Section 306 The Superintendent of any hospital for mental diseases may receive and detain as a patient for a period not exceeding ten days any person whose case is certified to be one of violent or dangerous mental illness or of other emergency by two qualified physicians in a certificate similar to the certificate required in section three hundred and two of this act except as to being sworn or affirmed to Upon the request of one of the aforesaid physicians or any relative or friend or of the guardian or committee of said patient a sheriff or constable or police officer shall cause the delivery of said patient to the superintendent of said hospital

The person requesting such admisison shall within ten days after the date of admission apply to the judge of the court of common pleas or other court of record of the county in which the patient is or resides or was apprehended for the commitment of said patient as mentally ill in accordance with the provisions of section three hundred and three of this act The certificate aforesaid may be used as the certificate of mental illness required in said section If within the said ten days no commitment be made or if the patient does not sign a request to remain in the hospiatl as a voluntary patient or if the patient be not removed the applicant aforesaid shall be liable to the hospital for the expenses incurred which may be recovered by the hospital by suit in assumpsit

Section 307 The guardian committee or any relative or friend of a person thought to be mentally ill may make application to the court of common pleas, or other court of record of the coutny wherein such person resides or is or to any judge thereof for an order for the commitment of such person to a hospital for mental diseases for observation diagnosis and treatment Such application shall be accompanied by the sworn certificate of two qualified physicians setting forth upon a form prescribed by the Department that such person is in such a condition as to require observation in a hospital for mental diseases and giving the information called for by said form Thereupon or in his own discretion without such application the court or judge if satisfied that the condition of such person is such as to make his commitment desirable for his best interests shall commit him for such period and under such limitations as the court or judge may direct to the institution indicated in the application or to such other like institution as the court or judge may designate

The superintendent or other person in charge of the institution to which the said person is committed shall before the expiration of the period of commitment of the patient make written report of said patient's mental condition to the court or judge making the commitment Thereupon the court or judge if satisfied that the patient is not mentally ill shall order his discharge and that the cost of his transportation commitment care and treatment be paid by the person so committed by the applicant for his commitment or by the poor authorities of the county or poor district in which such person is resident as the court or judge shall deem just and proper otherwise the court or judge shall make such order for the further disposition of the patient as may to him seem proper

RESOLUTION FAVORING INCREASED APPROPRIATION FOR EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM.

The Chair laid before the Senate resolution from the Conyngham Township School District, as follows; which was referred to the Committee on Education:

CONYNGHAM TOWNSHIP SCHOOL DISTRICT

Mocanaqua, Pa., May 19, 1923.

Lieutenant Governor David J. Davis, Harrisburg, Pa.,

My dear Sir: Please exert your influence against having the State Appropriations for Schools decreased. We are in a Rural District and have already levied 35 mills for the coming year and could not stand an additional cut from the State.

We want our pupils taught by Normal Graduates but it will be impossible to realize this unless we receive an increase in our State Appropriation. So we are looking to our Representatives at Harrisburg to do all in their power to support some revenue measure which will provide adequate funds for the educational program.

Yours truly,

J. E. Hughes, Secretary Conyngham Township School Board

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. B. Cox, offered the following prayer:

Oh, Lord, how excellent is Thy name in all the earth. Thou art God, and beside Thee there is none other. Thou hast been great in Thy greatness; Thou hast been good, and Thou hast not dealth with us according to our deserts, but by Thy own long suffering and tender mercies Thou hast permitted us to gather together this evening at the reconvening of this representative body.

We pray Thee that Thou wouldst bless the members of this Assembly, enable them to solve the problems that here await them. Bless the Speaker, that he may continue to exercise the functions of his office in the same fair and impartial manner that he has shown during the past days. Bless the clerks and all who have to do with the affairs of this House, bless the Commonwealth, bless the Governor, and the Senate and all who have to do with the affairs of State.

We ask it for Thy name's sake. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS.

RELATIVE TO TEXT BOOKS ON HISTORY.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules.

In the House of Representatives, May 21st, 1923.

Whereas, There have been serious and repeated charges in the public press and other publications that a number of text books on history now used in the schools of the Commonwealth contain offensive material, tending to destroy the faith of pupils in the public schools, that the American Revolution was waged for clean and exalted principles of human rights, and that American historical characters were heroic, clean and upright; and

Whereas, A committee of twenty-one superintendents, principals and teachers in New York City, after six months of investigation found these texts unfit for use in the public schools and characterized one in the following language:

> "Mr. West presents only the views of the council for the Crown. He is constantly finding defense for the course of action taken by the British Government. The American side of the argument is entirely ignored. No Wedderburn, no Crown advocate, could plead the British cause in a more bitterly partisan spirit than West has done."

Whereas, Said committee further reported as follows:

> "The paragraphs complained of in the books, indicate an attitude of mind toward the founders of the Republic which, in our judgment, is entirely reprehensible," and

Whereas, These historical texts have been condemned in formal resolutions by the American Legion, the descendants of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, the Grand Army of the Republic, the Knights of Columbus, the Sons of the American Revolution, the United Spanish War Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars; and

Whereas, It is alleged these texts teach that many Patriots were drawn into the Continenal Army by money, bounties and promises of land; that the Boston Tea Party was wholly a lawless destruction of property; that if you called Washington an American he would have thought you were applying a nickname; that the American Revolution was not an attempt of England to tyrannize over the Colonies; that the wisdom of the break from England is a debatable question; that the English Colonial system was not tyrannical; that the War of 1812 originated in blunder and was conduced discreditable, and that it was a mistake; that the first signer of the Declaration of Independence was a smuggler; that the Continental Congress was made up of scoundrels and was the scene of petty bickering and schemings among selfish, unworthy, short sighted, narrow minded, office seeking and office trading plotters, and many other offensive provisions, and

Whereas, Such teachings do not constitute honest history, and are not designed to be an accurate presentation of the truth, and must inevitably result in the deadening of pride and confidence in the characters and principles of our Nation's founders, the poisoning of the springs of patriotism and the lessening of National spirit and morals in the next generation; and

Whereas, We should in all justice do honor to our forefathers, credit to ourselves and justice to our children, by purging the public schools of histories that are disloyal to American tradition, spirit and prestige; and

Whereas, Laws have been passed in the States of Oregon, Washington, Wisconsin and New York prohibiting the use of such texts and measures of the same kind are pending in Colorado, Idaho, Missouri, West Virginia and Florida, and in Indiana the legislature in letting a five-year contract of text books, excluded, all the accused histories; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Department of Public Instruction shall make an immediate investigation of all text books of history in the public schools of the Commonwealth, and ascertain whether any of such texts ignore, omit, discount or in any manner belittle, ridicule, falsify, distort, question, doubt or deny events leading up to the Declaration of Independence or connected with the American Revolution, or the spirit, determination, or patriotism with which this Nation was founded, defended and preserved, or the accomplishments, motives and acts of American patriots or cast aspersions upon their lives.

Resolved, That the Department of Public Instruction shall, after such investigation, make a report of its findings and therein shall specifically list any text book of history which in its opinion teaches improper matter or in an improper way, and shall send a copy of its report to each board of school directors of the Commonwealth, with the request that further use of said text books be discontinued.

Resolved, That the Department of Public Instruction shall make a report to the next Session of the General Assembly showing what was done in accordance with this resolution, and what, if any, legislation is needed to prevent the further use of improper text books in the public schools.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

RELATIVE TO DEATH OF HON. THADDEUS W. HARRY.

Miss THOMAS offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted.

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1923.

Whereas, The House has learned of the death of Thaddeus W. Harry, a former member of the House of Representatives from Chester County, since the Memorial Resolution was adopted on May 15th, 1923.

Be It Resolved, That the Memorial services to be held in the House on Tuesday, May 22, 1923, at 2 o'clock P. M. shall include services for the late Hon. Thaddeus W. Harry, and

Be It Further Resolved, That when this House adjourns tonight it do adjourn in memory of the said late Thaddeus W. Harry.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1314, file folio 6413 entitled

> An Act to give concurrent jurisdiction to the municipal court in actions for divorce in any judicial district in which such court shall exist and providing that all laws relating thereto are hereby made applicable to said court was defeated on final passage on May 15, 1923, be reconsidered.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1314, file folio 6413, be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House on Tuesday, May 15, 1923, refused to adopt the report of the committee on conference on House Bill No. 234, file folio 7091, entitled:

> An Act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto be reconsidered.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, so that the members may understand what this motion is, it is a motion to try to get into a position whereby it may be possible for the House to adopt the report of the committee on conference on the Game Code.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Zook and Mr. Kelly.

So the question was determined in the affirmative, and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the committee on conference?

Mr. KELLY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we are about to vote on a bill that you voted on last Tuesday when we refused to concur in the amendments. In the past week there has been an unlimited amount of lobbying on this bill all over the State. In my home town a game warden, paid from the game fund, I presume, came to my city and solicited the local members of our wild life association, asking them to send telegrams to Harrisburg to vote for this resolution so that it would be reconsidered. I haven't received one telegram today, but I know that there have been a good many coming in here. During the time that the soliciation was going on my friends at home asked this game warden if he had a copy of the bill with him, and he said, "No." "Well," he said, "what do you want me to endorse? What do you want me to send a telegram asking them to approve? That bill has been changed so much that we really don't know what shape it is in. I don't feel as though I should send a wire to Harrisburg, asking my friends to do something that I don't know anything about."

I presume from the amount of telegrams and letters that have been received from the members of this House today, that that, perhaps, has been going on over the entire State. The cry goes over the State, that this is a sportsmen's game code. When I landed here this morning, I found that the president of the Wild Animal League in Pennsylvania and the members and the treasurer of that same organization and another man was here, representing the Central Beagle Club of Pennsylvania, opposing this bill. This bill is unjust and and it dosen't look to me as though the representations that have been made are correct. You have voted this bill down last Tuesday, by a vote of 97 to 61 you voted to non-concurr in it. It passed our committee in the House after holding public hearings, going over the matter thoroughly without a dissenting vote and it was sent to the Senate, where it was amended considerably. I requested the Senate Game Committee, as I said before on this floor, the privilege of appearing before them and telling my story. That privilege I did not have. After they amended this bill, I went to them personally and asked them to have another hearing on it and allow the sportsmen of the State to come in and tell the truth. Now, since that time we haven't had a public hearing on this bill, and I don't think that it is quite fair. I think the sportsmen ought to have something to say about this matter. Now, I would ask you to vote this bill down. If we can't come to any better understanding in this bill, why not revert back to the old laws. Why not work under the old law two years longer and let the people that make up these bills find out what the feeling is, and get the experience that we have had in this session. I ask you to vote the bill down.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, this bill is like the proverbial cat with nine lives. We have had this bill before us several times and have refused to concur in the Senate amendments; Next, we refuse to agree on the conference report; now, after having defeated it, it is back here again. Now, the same has been true in my county as in the case just stated. The game wardens have been lobbying during the last week, and what has been true in my county has been true, I find, in a number of others. Now the question, as I see it, is simply whether the Game Commission shall rule this House or whether this House is supreme to the Game Commission. We all understand what an organization may have built up here on Capital Hill. Now, we all know that a lot of these commissions are little kingdoms by themselves that have been built up and organized right here on Capital Hill. This Game Commission has an income of its own independent of the rest of the State. It spends this money practically as it sees fit. Now this House, when this bill first passed, put a provision in it that one-third of the money, at least, should be spent for propagating game. That was cut out entirely at the behest of the Game Commission over in the Senate, and then the House refused to concur. Finally, the conference committee restored the amendments. As it is now, it puts us in this position: Are we going before the people of Pennsylvania and say to them that we believe that 20% of the money should be spent for game purposes and 80% should be spent for overhead? That 20%, even, includes feed for game and such other items; it doesn't even provide that any percentage of it shall be spent for the propagation of game. Now, I feel that this House will indeed stultify itself if it will let the Game Commission know that they can dictate to this House just what kind of legislation they want. We have a good many of these little kingdoms right here on Capital Hill. They are governments all by themselves; they are kingdoms all unto themselves; they are a law unto themselves; they are free to act as they see fit in the matter.

Now, this Legislature has twice turned down this proposition, and I feel that we cannot, without stultifying ourselves, agree to pass this proposition. Now, you all remember that when this hunters' license law was enacted ten years ago, the specific promise was made that the bulk of this money was to be spent for the propogation of game. Why, down in Berks County, we haven't received a drop in the bucket. As I have told you before, the money has been spent in overhead. They have built up an organization all their own. Why, as I understand, the Chairman of the Commission in a speech some time ago, said, "We collected $60,000 in finances during a year, and we could easily have collected $120,000. Now, I would like to know, why didn't they collect $120,000 if they could have collected it under the law? Does that mean that this commission simply uses the law in an endeavor to punish its enemies and to take care of its friends? Are we simply here to build up a little independent political organization like that? Are we simply here to build up these little kingdoms, one after the other? Why, the talk all over the State for the last year has been about the mess that the Governor, in his campaign has spoken of, the mess, if there is a mess, on Capital Hill. Why the Game Commission is one of the worst messes that they talk about, and here we are, after we have turned down the tax bill, after we have told the people that we don't want to tax them any further, here we are, asked to increase the hunters' license fee and build up one of these little political kingdoms that has been established here on the Hill in late years. I feel that if we want to be sincere about cleaning up the mess and giving a square deal to the people of Pennsylvania, we should now vote down this bill.

Mr. GROVER C. MYERS. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to take up too much time after hearing Mr. Kelly and Mr. Sarig discuss the bill. If Mr. Sarig will take into consideration that by the spending of 25 cents more, and if each hunter in Berks county will take a little salt along with him and sprinkle it on the rabbits tail he will get more game. Now, as to Mr. Kelly's argument, we went over this bill for 8 weeks and Mr. Kelly sat in every conference I was in, and we tried to make a bill that would not belong to the Commission, and I think a majority of the members that were on that committee will sanction my words when I say that we as much as ruled the Commission out of the room when we acted on the bill. I feel the game code is a good one and should go through. Now, with reference to the one-third that is to be used for the propagation of game, he takes exception to the feeding of game, and you cannot have game unless you feed it. I think the truth of the matter is that dogs got loose the other night and now they want to tear the bill up.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have been working so hard on this bill and I have been talking so much about it that I don't feel like taking up your time except to answer a few of the arguments that have been advanced, in an effort to defeat it. The argument has been made that the House has already turned this code down twice. That may be true, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, but I think it has been so because the members of this House have not understood the full meaning and intent of this code. It also has been said that there has been lobbying for and against this bill. I freely confess that there has been lobbying against this bill and that statements have been made concerning the bill which would not stand close investigation. For example, last week the statement was made that the Game Commission uses 85% of its revenues for overhead. Mr. Speaker, you only need to look at the report of the Game Commission for the year 1922, to discover there that the Game Commission, out of its receipts of about half a million dollars spent more than $83,000 for the purchase and propagation of game, and it spent more than $133,000 in bounties for the removal of noxious animals. In those two items alone, almost 50% of the revenues of the Game Commission have been expended during the past year and in preceding years. The fact of the matter is, there is no commission that I know of that is incurring so little overhead expense as this Game Commission, and that solely due to the fact that the men who are on the Commission give their time free of charge and their services simply out of love for the State of Pennsylvania and for the good of the sportsmen. I violate no confidence, I think, when I say that the gentleman from Allegheny, who has fought this bill so persistently from its very beginning is interested in fighting it because he represents and is the spokesman of a number of beagle hound breeders and trainers, principally in Allegheny County. Now, he contends that he should have the month of March in which to train his dog. I wish that you members of the House would hear what Mr. Hornaday, a recognized expert on game life in the United States, says even about our proposal to give these dog trainers six months and ten days for the training of their animals. In New York, only a single month is allowed to the dog trainers for that purpose. He thinks it is a crime, even, to give them six months and he thinks it would be a double crime if we would give them permission to train their dogs in the month of March when men who know about the woods and about wild life know that the rabbits are bearing their young. Members of this House, this game code is an honest proposition, put forward at the request and representing the sentiment of the sportsmen of the State of Pennsylvania. The Game Commission has nothing to gain by passing this code. It isn't their code, it is the code of the sportsmen of the State of Pennsylvania. The Game Commission is composed of men who are in business; they are busy men, and yet they are willing to give their time without a single dollar's remuneration to this work of trying to make and keep Pennsylvania the best State in all the United States for sportsmen, and it seems to me that there is mighty small business for some of us who do not know much about sportsmen and about the sport, about the game, about anything of that kind, to take difference with them when they know that they are honestly minded to do what is best for Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania sportsmen.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Whiteman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Whiteman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITEMAN. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARIG. If this money is not spent in overhead, then what is the objection to this law, which provides that one-third of it must be spent for propagation of game?

Mr. WHITEMAN. I will say in answer to the gentleman from Berks that objection has been made to that, since the situation might arise where other states in which we purchase our game, that the men who raise the game and who sell it to Pennsylvania, knowing that we had to spend s large an amount whether or not we could spend it economically or not, would immediately put up the price and force Pennsylvania to pay more than it ought to pay for the gam that lies outside of the Commonwealth.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Haws, Harer, Burd P. Evans, Orr, Fratt, Howard Smith, Burns, Dilsheimer, Heffernan, Bidelspacher, Hall, Hetrick, Wells, Eaches, Gelder, Whitehouse, Stark, George W. Williams, Posey, Mathay, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question.

On the question,

Shall the main question be now put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee on Conference

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DUNN. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. Yes, sir.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether all the amendments which he wanted inserted in this bill when it was up before are now included?

Mr. STEEDLE. They are not, sir.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny what amendments have been omitted.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer the gentleman from Philadelphia, not by stating what amendment is omitted, but by what amendments are omitted.

Mr. DUNN. Beg pardon?

Mr. STEEDLE. I said that I would like to answer the gentleman from Philadelphia, not by stating what amendment is omitted, but what amendments are omitted. Amendments, plural. Or perhaps, I could answer that more generally, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a matter of enlightenment. Unfortunately the Journal of May 14th is not on record, neither is the Journal of May 15th, that I can properly answer the gentleman from Philadelphia, who possibly misinformed this House. But in response to the gentleman's question in regard to the introduction of amendments that I submitted to this House two weeks ago tomorrow, the first amendment was in section 1, page 2, line 10, by inserting after the word licensed, the following: "as a drugless therapist".

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny on that amendment.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. Yes, Sir.

Mr. DUNN. Is that amendment not in the bill now?

Mr. STEEDLE. If the gentleman will let me proceed, I will tell the House that this is on of the amendments that we both agreed upon. The second amendment offered, to which Mr. Dunn agreed, was in section 2, page 3, line 1, by striking out the words "This act", and inserting "The Medical Practice Act of one thousand nine hundred and eleven as a Drugless Therapist."

Now I offered an amendment to section 6, on page 10 line 3, by inserting after the word "character", the following: "Has obtained a preliminary education as hereinafter provided". This section as I proposed the amendment has not been taken care of by Mr. Dunn in his proposed amendments.

Mr. DUNN. Is not this inserted in the bill?

Mr. STEEDLE. I am only referring to the amendments as given to me by you last week.

Mr. DUNN. I am asking you whether it is inserted in the bill before us tonight?

Mr. STEEDLE. I have not found it in the amended bill.

Mr. DUNN. In what section are you looking?

Mr. STEEDLE. On page 10.

Mr. DUNN. The section in which the word "Not" is stricken out as suggested by the medical people?

Mr. STEEDLE. What file folio have you got?

Mr. DUNN. 7873. What file folio have you got?

Mr. STEEDLE. File folio 7873.

Mr. DUNN. Don't you see it, your amendments inserted there?

Mr. STEEDLE. On page 10, line 3?

Mr. DUNN. On page 10, line 17.

Mr. STEEDLE. That entire amendment, "has obtained a preliminary education as herein provided?" Well, I don't see it.

Mr. DUNN. Its there. "has obtained a preliminary education as hereinafter provided." That is in lines 6 and 7, page 10.

Mr. STEEDLE. That's right.

Mr. DUNN. Thank you. What is the next?

Mr. STEEDLE. Amend section 7, page 11, by striking out the word "confirming".

Mr. DUNN. That is merely a typographical error.

Mr. STEEDLE. Then, the other one is, "Amend section 10, page 12, line 27, by inserting after 'examiners', the following: 'Including the standard of professional education' ".

Mr. DUNN. What page?

Mr. DUNN. Look on page 13, line 4. "including the standard of professional education."

Mr. STEEDLE. That's ours, and you inserted "not to become effective until January 1, 1925", to which we object.

Mr. DUNN. You object to that? Well that's all right. Any further amendments?

Mr. STEEDLE. That's all.

Mr. DUNN. Then you admit all your amendments are offered in this bill?

Mr. STEEDLE. No. I don't.

Mr. DUNN. What ones are not included?

Mr. STEEDLE. You don't accept "professional education until 1925"?

Mr. DUNN. Did you or not insert 1925?

Mr. STEEDLE. You did.

Mr. DUNN. I admit that.

Mr. STEEDLE. But I do not agree to your amendments.

Mr. DUNN. Well, I know you didn't. I agree to that.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill before you tonight is one in which all the amendments offered, when this bill was up before, by your friend and my friend, are included. It includes all the amendments submitted by the medical people, with the exception of one, which I, on behalf of the chiropractors inserted. The amendment which they want to impose is this: Every one of those chiropractors in the field today who have been practising from one to fifteen years must acquire a preliminary education before they can make application for an examination. See the impossibility of that. I want to be fair with these people, and the people whom I represent want to be honest, but how can a man or a woman who has been in the field practicing this healing art from one to fifteen years go back in the high school to secure the preliminary education which the medical men demand of them? It is a most foolish proposition ever submitted to an intelligent body of Pennsylvanians. The medical men, when they first were granted a board, and this is one of the most important pieces of legislation which comes before this body, you will remember years ago the allopaths were in control of this state, then came the homeopaths along and they showed the people of Pennsylvania that their science of healing had merits, but the allopaths said, "No, you cannot come into Pennsylvania and practice because we want this field to ourselves", but finally, after years of coming before this body they were granted the same privilege as the allopaths, and they were granted licenses without an examination. Then came along the eclectics and they applied, and they were fought by the allopaths and the homeopaths, but they finally won out, and they were granted the right to practice without an examination. Then the three combined; the allopaths, homeopathic and the eclectic to prevent any other healing art or advanced science of the healing art to enter Pennsylvania; and then the osteopaths came along and they fought for four or five years but finally they got a license and were permitted to practice without an examination; that is, those who were already practicing in the field. Then the optometrists came along and they finally were granted by an almost unanimous vote of this House a license without an examination. I am speaking now of those who were already in the field, and ever since the day the first Board was granted to the allopaths this combination has tried to prevent any other cult, whether they have merit or not from practising in Pennsylvania. There are three different groups of these people. I have talked to the old fashioned medical doctor who did not have a high school education, but was granted a license. He came out of the work-shop. He was a brick-layer, probably; he was a mechanic just the same as the gentleman from Allegheny who will speak on this subject later on will state of these people, as he has spoken of every other cult that came before this body since 1913. I spoke to the old fashioned doctor who works in the community. He is willing to pull teeth or do anything, whether it be major or minor surgery or medicine or prescribe, and he said, "Do the medical people require that these men who are in the field take an examination"? and I said, "Yes, they require it, and I who represent these people state that the ones already in the field are willing to take such an examination, and we inserted that", but he said that was unfair. Speaking for the old group of medical doctors he said, "It is unfair to force these people when the medical doctors and other branches of the healing art were never forced to take it." But, I said, "We are willing to put our people on record that they are able to take this examination, even though they were never in high school." Then I met another group. I talked to a later group of physicians and they said, "We agree that your bill is all right, providing you are going to put them under examination." I said, "That is what we are going to do. We are going to give them a test, and the incompetents in Pennsylvania we are going to chase out," and the schools in Pennsylvania that are advertising and which the doctors want to try to prevent from teaching which cannot be prevented unless they pass this bill, the three months school of which my friend from Allegheny has told you, they are turning them out in three months, two schools in Philadelphia turning them out within three months and the medical profession of the State of Pennsylvania are trying to prevent these people from driving out these schools, by their action trying to assume that Pennsylvania belongs to them and no other branch of the healing art shall be permitted in the state of Pennsylvania. There is another group, which since 1920 has formed itself into a political group, with Harrisburg as their headquarters. And that political group, my friends, have gathered together in this organization the allopaths, the homeopaths and the eclectics, the three different branches of the healing art. These men gather here for the purpose of sending propaganda all over the state, to the physician who is trying to do a good thing in Pennsylvania who is hard at work among his patients, day in and day out, while they sit here in Harrisburg, and formulate propaganda to go to these physicians and frighten them telling them that legislation may be passed here in Harrisburg detrimental to their practice. The secretary of the organization issuing that propaganda is a doctor, and when I asked him at the hearing whether he practiced medicine he said, "No, I have not for the last two years." I understand he gets a salary of $5,000 to be here as lobbyist for that purpose. The president is also here. The president was supposed to be appointed either as a commissioner of welfare or a commissioner of health, and he was disappointed. He is treasurer of the Norristown insane institution. There is hardly any work, probably, that he has to do. Then we have another one who is secretary and treasurer of that propaganda organization. It is political organization, because, and don't doubt it, for the letters that they sent out warned us when we were candidates at the general election to pledge ourselves to their purposes and to vote for their particular legislation. The secretary and treasurer of that propaganda organization was here each time, and in legislation affecting these three different branches he too was active. He also was a man who went on a man's bail in Norristown when a physician was used by them as a tool to go into the chiropractor's office to arrest him for practicing medicine without a license. He too went their bail, the secretary and treasurer of that propaganda organization. And each and every one of them who is attached to that organization is there, not for the purpose of practicing medicine, but for the purpose of trying to get better jobs, so that they can give up the practice of medicine in the State of Pennsylvania. And any reputable physician of Pennsylvania who thinks that much of the honor in the diploma which was given to him should practice medicine and not get into politics for political jobs. I want to read what a physician says. They have increased the standard of the medical school so that a poor boy will be put out of busines and be unable to practice medicine, because it requires eleven years to go through the school before he gets his diploma, and it is estimated on an average, when he comes out of that school, that he is twenty-eight years of age, and then he must start to build up a practice. Where is there a poor man in Pennsylvania whose boy is ambitious to become a doctor who can afford to sent him to school for eleven years simply because the medical association in Chicago, the head trust of this great medical combination of Pennsylvania and the United States says that these standards must be raised and the poor boy kept out because of the length of time that he must spend in a school. What has been the result? They have issued another mandate from the medical association in the city of Chicago, from their headquarters, that the standard of these schools of ours, these colleges, must meet the required standard or go out of business. And then the letter that I shall read from Russell Conwell tells me that out of one hundred sixty-one schools in the United States, they have put eighty-one schools out of business. What does that mean? It means less doctors. It means less practical men in our suburbs, and you country members well know that in your country town you can hardly have a doctor anymore. Why? Because any boy whose father spent the money to send him to school and serve eleven years is not going to be the old family physician that we have seen in our homes. No, he goes to the city then; he becomes a specialist, and therefore your country towns are becoming disorganized, because no physician can be had. Who is going to take their place if the physicians are going to drive out our schools and then prevent our boys from practicing medicine, from going into our country towns? Who is going to take their place? I understand from one of my friends, a representative here, he told me only a week ago that in his little town in Pennsylvania, when it is necessary for them to have a physician, they must send to the city and it costs them twenty-five dollars a visit. They are commercializing their business instead of looking primarily after the healing of the sick among the people of this Commonwealth; that is what they are doing, and so long, gentlemen of this House, that you vote against a piece of legislation like this, you are encouraging these men, who now are licensed, who are tightening their grip around Pennsylvania so that they alone shall be the people who shall administer to the sick of Pennsylvania and set their own prices. I want to read what a physician says in regard to this. It is an extract from the Fairview Echo, of Fairview, Pennsylvania.

"The New York State Department of Health reported in 1921 some 165 localities which had no doctor and that in 323 communities there was not a physician who had been out of college less than twenty-five years. Out of eighty-two applications for physicians from thriving villages and hamlets in New York, physicians were obtained for only half. The same situation exists in many other States. One town in New York raised a subsidy of $2,500 a year to keep its single physician. One of his nearest medical neighbors reported a drive of fifteen miles to cover a territory which a few years ago had several physicians. Many rural districts today lack medical service easily obtainable, of good quality and at a reasonable cost. The farmer needs a competent doctor within easy driving distance to his home and one who will give service for a fair compensation.

"The effect of standardization of medical colleges and education, although it has produced better trained men, has reached the stage where it shows in a decreased number of graduates. Many medical colleges are limiting the number of their students so as to give better instruction. Most of the recent graduates in medicine are not willing to begin practice in the country but go to the cities. The tendency today is toward post-graduate study and then to go out as specialists, for this means a larger income with less work and without the irksomeness of a general practice. The specialist has regular office and hospital hours and is usually free from evening interference with his social life.

"Between 1911 and 1919, in the rural districts of New York there was a falling off of 400 doctors, or 13.6 per cent., although the population had gained 7 per cent. City comforts and larger advantages attract the graduates of medical colleges to the cities, leaving the country deserted. The World War gathered many doctors into army and navy service and after their discharge the attractions of the city made them fail to return to the country."

They are driving the country doctor out into the city on account of the high standard raised by the medical combination. Here is what one of the present medical board submits. Mind you, we are going to put him under an examination, but here he says, "what is reasonable for them." One of the State Medical Board says, "any person who has practiced chiropractics in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania continuously three to five years prior to the passage of this act pursuant to a proper application be issued a license to practice chiropractics in Pennsylvania." That is, without an examination, and one of the State Medical Board submits that, submits that for the chiropractors of the State. We go still further than that, and we say to these people, the medical people that we are challenging, you now as to the qualifications of an educational standard and let them take the examination that is required in this bill and if the man is not educated, even though he has not got the high school education, you know and the medical men know that he cannot pass the examination. The Declaration of Independence says, "All men are created equal and are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights, that among those are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." The Constitution of Pennsylvania says, "All men are born equally free and independent and have certain inherent and indefeasable rights, among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty, of acquiring, possessing and protecting property." This is a property right. It belongs to the people of Pennsylvania; it belongs to these people of Pennsylvania, this property right, and even though you defeat this bill tonight and put them at the mercy of the medical combination, it is up to you, because they will practice in Pennsylvania so long as some detective from the medical combination don't get in and detect them at diagnosing a case and practicing medicine without a license. Do you want to see, when we have a fair bill like this to license these people and put them under regulations, do you want to see these men go to jail simply because the medical profession has tightened its grip around the throat of the Legislature. I appeal to you tonight, members of this House, to grant them this, and inside of one year and a half the State will meet the requirements of the high educational standard, they will meet the requirements of the other educational standard which we put into effect on January 1, 1925, and the State will be rid of all the correspondence school students of which the gentleman from Allegheny speaks, these schools in Pennsylvania will be wiped out if they cannot meet the requirements of this act, what more do they want? Why, if you are fair-minded Pennsylvanians you would all unite together to protect these people and clean the incompetent out of Pennsylvania.

Mr. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DUNN. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PATTERSON. I should like to ask if you are a chiropractor yourself, do you have a license to practice chiropractic, do you have a certificate as a chiropractor?

Mr. DUNN. No, never understood it at all, no.

Mr. PATTERSON. At the present time, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the question recurrs on the bill as the Speaker has stated. It is simply the same old bill that we voted down here the other night, and the same objection that I voiced the other evening still holds good. As a member of the medical profession, deeply interested, of course in this bill the same statement that I made the other night holds true. The gentleman has said that this is an attempt to prevent these people from practicing chiropractics. It is not. They have been practising and can go on practising just the same as they have heretofore, and those ten thousand letters from patients the other evening that they received, those ten thousand patients could still have their chiropractors, they would be fully protected as they have been in the past under the drugless therapy act. The thing that we do stand for is to raise the standard, to put them on the same plane before they can become doctors to protect the public, that is all. These men have been practising and can go on practising as chiropractors. It is not an attempt to drive them from the state, it is simply an attempt to keep them where they belong. If they want to practise medicine let them conform to all the regulations and more power to them. The gentleman speaks as to the question of the requirements of the past seven years in the medical profession, resulting in, he says, less doctors. I answer, better doctors. Doctors that are prepared fully to diagnose, treat and care for any and all ailments that come up. If the men who claim that they don't, as chiropractors, wish to practise medicine but simply by this mechanical manipulation desire to correct evils, all right. Well and good. If they can succeed in doing that, as I said the other night, more power to them. We are not attempting to stop them, but we are attempting to stop them from imposing upon the public as doctors, as practising medicine, and getting in on a short term basis as compared to those of us who have had to work long in years. If they are going to practise chiropractics, all right. They can do that under the drugless therapy act, but if they are going to try to practise medicine, diagnose conditions, and so forth then they certainly do require the same standards as other doctors who are practising today. I certainly ask that this bill be defeated.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Patterson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Patterson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PATTERSON. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DUNN. I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether he is a physician?

Mr. PATTERSON. I am, sir.

Mr. DUNN. I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny how long he has been a physician?

Mr. PATTERSON. Since 1900, twenty-three years ago.

Mr. DUNN. I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether when he was granted a license and took an examination he was required to have a high school education?

Mr. PATTERSON. Yes sir.

Mr. DUNN. Is the gentleman from Allegheny aware of the fact that the medical act only required a high school education since 1911?

Mr. PATTERSON. That was required of me in 1900.

Mr. DUNN. Then the act didn't require you to have a high school education.

Mr. PATTERSON. Yes.

Mr. DUNN. No sir. I would like to interrogate the gentleman further, Mr. Speaker. I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, as a physician whether he thinks it is right for these people who are practicing today in the field from one to fifteen years, it is right for them to drop their practice and feasable to go back into the high school in order to get the preliminary education in order to pass the examination.

Mr. PATTERSON. No, let them go on as they are doing.

Mr. DUNN. That is all we are asking.

Mr. PATTERSON. No, you don't. You ask for a board of examination. I think the whole act is wrong.

Mr. DUNN. I would like to interrogate the gentleman further, Mr. Speaker. Are you the gentleman from Allegheny who introduced a barbers' bill?

Mr. PATTERSON. I am, sir.

Mr. DUNN. It is all right then.

Mr. BURD P. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 36, which is before the House, is intended to "regulate the practice of chiropractic." Chiropractic consists chiefly in the prevention and cure of disease by means of the adjustment of the bones in the spine, to permit the natural functioning of the nerves which pass through the openings between these bones, and help nature, the greatest healer, in effecting a cure.

As the name chiropractic indicates, the adjustments are done solely by the hands of the chiropractor.

There are no medicines, no instruments, no appliances of any kind used in the practice of chiropractic.

Chiropractors are not anti-medical, they are non-medical, they have no connection with any other science of healing, and do not want to practice medicine, surgery, obstetrics, or treat contagious diseases.

Chiropractic has been practised in the United States for twenty-seven years; there are thousands of chiropractic practitioners and many thousands more grateful patients, of which I am one, I know that chiropractic treatment does give the patient the desired result in many cases, and leaves no drugs for the system to eliminate.

This bill is opposed by the same element that opposed a similar bill last session of the Legislature.

Does the same jealousy, selfishness and bigotry characterize the opposition to this bill that from earlier times, characterized the religious fanatics and professional zealots?

In the time of Hippocrates, in the year 460 B. C. there were at least two schools of medicine contradicting and opposing each other.

When Harvey discovered the circulation of the blood, in 1615 his theory was bitterly opposed by some of the high men of his times.

The learned Hahnerman, the first homeopath, brought forth his theory of "Similia Similibus Curantur" in 1789, and it was not only opposed by the learned medical men, but he, the man, was so much in danger from his opponents that he was forced to save his life by fleeing from his home in Leipsic, and he died in exile, because he had dared to suggest a new treatment.

Homeopaths know how they have been treated by the allopaths in this state; true they now have equal rights, but only because public opinion forced the opposition to accede to the legal status.

History is repeating itself. Chiropractic is being presented, but here too, public opinion will soon compel all unfair opposition to yield and full, equal rights will be given to chiropractors, limited only to the limits of their profession.

Chiropractic is recognized by twenty-eight states of the Union, and this recognition has raised the standard of service. It will do the same in this state.

Opponents of chiropractics, if you are actuated by fear that the coming of chiropractic will cause you to lose some of your practice then pass this bill, because as soon as the bill passes and chiropractors have the right to examine their own practitioners, their standard will be higher, their number less and their competition more liberal.

If you hope to drive chiropractic into the hands of the medical men so they can control it, you are deceiving yourselves, because there is nothing in common between the two except the duty to relieve suffering and prolong life.

If you hope to exterminate chiropractors by continued persecution, I tell you solemnly it cannot be done. The public will not permit this. You will make martyrs of them. Extermination was tried in California. The public made it a political issue, and the chiropractic issue swept the state by 160,000 majority in its favor. The public do [illegible] same in this State if it wills to do so. Extermination is being tried in Ohio now. Wait and see what will happen there. Right is might and will prevail. I claim it as my right to have a chiropractor treat me if I wish. If you opponents arrest him and put him in jail for curing me, I tell you now, I will, by all lawful menas, try to get him out, and keep him out at any cost. Any red-blooded man will do the same, and some may seek revenge against you for your folly.

If the opponents of this bill are actuated by professional hatred, their actions will only tend to drive chiropractors to outlawry and they only will add hate to hate with no chance of extermination and no hope of cooperation. More than 10,000 grateful patients, cured by chiropractic treatment, petition that this bill shall pass, and there is not one dissatisfied patient to protest against it. I appeal to the members of this House that this argument of more than 10,000 patients in favor and not one opposed should show us it is our duty to pass this bill. And I here earnestly urge that we may pass this bill, because it will hasten the fair day when these divided cults will join heart and hands in performance of their highest duty, the service of humanity, and will cease this destructive conflict with each other so that their brotherly love may run more pure, and they will drive blind hatred back to Hades whither it springs.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I should like the gentleman from Beaver, to postpone this motion for just a moment.

The SPEAKER. There is a motion before the House.

Mr. STEEDLE. I understand that, Mr. Speaker, and I will ask him that if he will not insist upon it for about three minutes, that I will not occupy more than three minutes' time.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker, I don't like to be discourteous, but I think this debate has gone on long enough. It was under debate when it was first voted upon, and I think that the House is sufficiently informed. They have had the bill before them, but if there is any feeling of discourtesy, I will certainly withdraw my motion. Under the circumstances, Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw it.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, as I stated before, I will only occupy about a minute or two. You have heard so much chiropractics, osteopathy and everything on God's earth as to the treatment of diseases that I won't take up much of your time, but I just want you to bear with me a moment. Now, ladies and gentlemen, this is just the beginning of a new era in boards. At the present time we have a cult called the naturopaths; there is another cult, neuropaths, there is another cult called the hydropaths. The one teaches healing by the manipulation of the nerves; the other is supposed to be a water cure, and so on down the line. Now the chiropractors come and they want their rights. It is only today, and tomorrow we have a report from every cult or medicine known to humanity and every man who will come in. It is like Christian scientists. We don't object to the chiropractors, as I stated on this floor before; every professsion now in the healing art must qualify in professional education, and all that we ask them to do and that is all that I insisted that Mr. Dunn put into his amendments and we would be for it, and in view of that fact that the time is up on my limited talk, I am going to ask the ladies and gentlemen of the House to vote this bill down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I vote for this bill because I believe no one should be allowed to practice the healing art and diagnose diseases who has not been required to measure up a safe standard of knowledge of human anatomy and disease symptoms. It is a serious thing to permit untrained and unskilled men and women to practice on the ailments of human kind. If I had my way, I would urge the State to set a general standard for the healing art and bar all who did not measure up to it from diagnosing and treating ills of the human body. It is especially serious to allow persons to diagnose who are not educated and trained specifically and in a comprehensive way to do so.

I believe this Bill will set a standard. It is not high enough to suit me. But in another two years this Assembly should make it higher until it removes all practitioners from the low standard class.

I would then put a barrier against unskilled practitioners by a general law prohibiting any phase of healing art, where there was any form of diagnosing resorted to, or any responsibility assumed to cure human ills, the nature of which was uncertain or problematical to the one assuming to treat or cure such ills.

Until such a law is passed the Chiropractics should be compelled to come up to a standard, at least as high as called for in this Bill.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. KELLY. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 478, file folio 7767, entitled:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT.

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Constitutional Reform, for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill providing for the holding of a constitutional convention, which originated in the Senate and which passed there by a vote of 44 to 2. The bill came over to the House and was referred to the Committee on Constitutional Reform, and at the first hearing on that bill, it was postponed for one week, so that opportunity might be given every one to be here. After the postponement of the bill for one week, a hearing was held and the committee acted upon that bill. I do not see any reason at this time, and none has been offered so far as I know. why this bill should be referred back to the Committee. If there is any objection to the bill, or to the holding of a constitutional convention, if there is any question as to the merits of the bill, that can be threshed out on third reading and final passage. It seems to me unless there is some reason offered, which has not been done thus far, that the bill should not be recommitted.

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, there is a very good reason in my opinion as to why this bill should be recommitted at this time. It is true, as the gentleman from Allegheny has related that the bill was postponed for a hearing. We held a hearing and immediately after the hearing the bill was voted out favorably. There was no discussion in the committee as to the merits of the bill in so far as its provisions were concerned. In reading the bill I have come to the conclusion that there is one feature in it which should be emphasized as being a bad feature. I would prefer to present that before the committee. I have an amendment correcting that which I think should be offered at a committee hearing. That is my reason for asking to have it recommitted at this time.

Miss. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the committee to which this bill was referred, we felt it was very thoroughly discussed in committee. It was brought up one week and a sub committee was appointed and they reported it and a hearing was held. The measure was reported out without only two negative votes. Therefore, I see no reason why it should go back to committee. My colleague from Philadelphia was present and had the opportunity to offer his amendments at that time. I feel that the bill should remain on the calendar and that we should act upon it. The time is growing short, and the constantly referring of bills back to committee is not a good measure at this time. I hope you will vote the motion down.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker. The session is getting late and I think we are losing too much time here arguing on bills. I think we will save time in referring bills back to the committee when it comes to making amendments to them. Therefore, I think we would facilitate matters much more and every member would have a chance to offer amendments if it should be amended in committee, and I am in accord with the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Marcus.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Marcus permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McVICAR. Have you drafted the amendment which you desire to insert in this bill?

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. I have.

Mr. McVICAR. Is there any reason why you cannot offer that amendment at this time?

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Yes.

Mr. McVICAR. Will you state what that reason is?

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. I prefer to have it discussed before the Committee.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I have possibly eigh or nine amendments, which I would like to offer, and I would like to save the time of this House. I think we ought to recommit it to the committee so that I can offer them. I have some of them here.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the section?
It was agreed to.

The second section was read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 If a majority of the electors who shall vote upon the aforesaid question shall favor the holding of a constitutional convention the said convention shall convene in the Hall of the House of Representatives in the State Capitol in the city of Harrisburg on the second Tuesday of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six at twelve o'clock noon and shall conclude its sessions not later than August first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six and delegates to said convention shall be nominated and elected as hereinafter provided

The third section was read as follows:

Section 3 The said constitutional convention if authorized by the electors as hereinbefore provided shall consist of three district delegates from each Senatorial district within the Commonwealth as said districts are constituted at the time of the election A district delegate shall be at least twenty-five years of age a citizen of the United States of America for at least five years a citizen and inhabitant of the Commonwealth for at least four years but may or may not be an inhabitant of the Senatorial District from which he or she shall be elected a delegate

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 3, page 2, line 27, by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" the following: "and of the Senatorial District from which he or she shall be elected a delegate".

Amend sec. 3, page 2, lines 28 and 29. by striking out lines 28 and 29.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentlemen from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Joseph Marcus, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McVICAR. Does this amendment which you have just offered provide that the delegate must be resident of the senatorial district from which he is chosen?

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. That is the effect of it.

Mr. McVICAR. And the effect of that amendment then is to change the amendment made by the Senate that a delegate might reside within or without the senatorial district, is that correct?

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Yes.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendment?
It was agreed to.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 3, page 2, line 20, by striking out the word "three" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "five".

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, Section 3 of this bill provides as follows:

The said constitutional convention if authorized by the electors as hereinbefore provided shall consist of three district delegates from each Senatorial district within the Commonwealth as said districts are constituted at the time of the election twenty-five delegates from the Commonwealth at large chosen A district delegate shall be at least twenty-five years of age a citizen of the United States of America for at least five years a citizen and inhabitant of this Commonwealth for at least four years but may or may not be an inhabitant of the Senatorial District from which he or she shall be elected a delegate

The proposed amendment would change that number from 3 to 5. Personally, I can see no good reason why there should be such an increase in this constitutional convention from 3 delegates to 5. It would only make it a larger and more unwieldy body and would make it an additional expense to the Commonwealth. It seems to me this amendment should be voted down.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I feel that this amendment is a just one because it gives a better chance for some of the working men to be elected. Where there are only three from a senatorial district, we do not have as good a chance as we would have under this amendment. I feel that in behalf of the workers it woild be a good thing to have five instead of three.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, if the amendment proposed by our colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, should prevail, there would be added to the expense of the constitutional convention, an even $100,000.00

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the constitution is a very important thing, and it seems to me to measure it by dollars and cents is very short sighted wisdom. Everything that occurs here that my friend from Montgomery objects to, he always measures it in dollars and cents. Human life, human happiness, human peace, cannot be measured by such a standard, and I ask this House to say to the people of Pennsylvania that we believe in an honest and fair representation of the people, and when it comes to the drafting and drawing up such an important thing to the people as a guide for our future, like a constitution, all of the people and not a few should be represented. You men and women no doubt remember two years ago when we sent out to the voters of the Commonwealth a proposed constitutional convention, and what did they do? They voted it down, and why did they vote it down, because the Governor insisted that 25 or 50 of the delegates should be chosen by him and him alone in that convention. Now, my friend here wants to save $100,000. Wont he trust the people?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I cannot see any other purpose in this amendment than to kill the bill. I think the gentlemen fully realize that the minority party could not vote for so humiliating a condition, giving them but one representative out of five. Under the present bill the minority is entitled to one representative out of three. Under this proposed amendment the minority would be entitled to only one out of five. As I see the situation, I think this amendment was offered simply for the purpose of driving away the minority representation from the support of this bill. There is no other purpose to it, and I think it should be voted down.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, this is the first time in the House when the gentleman from Berks proposes to draw the party line, in my opinion, and I cannot see why this motion should be voted down. I am in perfect accord with the gentleman from Lackawanna and the gentleman from Philadelphia, that if we are going to have a constitutional convention we ought to have a fair representation in that convention. The fewer hands it is confined to, the worse it is going to be for the common people.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, in so far as drawing the party line is connected, I simply want to say this that we feel from the minority viewpoint that in so important a matter as the holding of a constitutional convention, we should have a fair and honorable representation. Now, I see no reason, if we really want to have a constitutional convention, why the minority should be limited to one-fifth of the representation. Whether the gentleman thinks I am drawing the party line or not, does not matter to me, but I feel that we could not, without humiliating ourselves, vote for a proposition that would give us but one-fifth of the representation in so important a matter as the holding of a constitutional convention. This is a matter for all the people of Pennsylvania, and the minority party is represented by far more than one-fifth of the voting population of this state. At the present time there are about 700,000 Democrats in Pennsylvania. I feel it would be humiliating to offer a proposition to us that would give us but one fifth of the representation. I am only asking what is right, I am only asking what is fair, and if you men propose to hold a constutional convention, let us hold it along the lines that are just and fair and reasonable.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Sarig, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. SARIG. Yes.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I believe the position taken by the gentleman from Berks that the minority party is entitled to more than one out of five is well taken. I desire to ask the gentleman from Berks where in the bill the minority party would be restricted to one of the five delegates.

Mr. SARIG. Well, the minority party is entitled to one out of three in the present bill. Under this bill as amended it would be entitled to one out of five.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I would respectfully suggest to the gentleman from Berks that the only reason under this bill that the minority party is entitled to one is because under this bill the majority party is entitled to two. If this amendment should prevail, having five delegates, the minority party would be entitled to three and the majority party to only two. Let me read for your enlightenment: "The two candidates of any political party receiving the largest number of votes at the said primaries shall be the nominees of such party for delegates from the senatorial districts within which such candidates are nominated." It seems to me if the amendment of the gentleman from Philadelphia were to pass and it would not be subsequently amended, that the majority party would be entitled to two and the minority party to three, so it occurs to me that if we agree that five would be a better representation from a senatorial district than three, if that amendment should be adopted, another amendment would have to be inserted so that the majority party would receive three and the minority party two, instead or as at present. If the amendment carries, the majority party would have two and the minority party three.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. GOLDER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARIG. Is such an amendment contemplated in case this amendment passes?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Sarig, I confess I did not know what amendments were to be offered, but I will say this, that in the event such an amendment is offered, I shall vote for it, and vote for it gladly. I believe the position of the gentleman from Berks is well taken, but I am certain that if this amendment carries that the majority party will not allow the minority party to have three as against their two delegates.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, in case such an amendment would be offered, the effect would still be the same as I said in the beginning. The effect would then be to kill this bill from the majority side. Unless this amendment were offered as stated, and this amendment should prevail, if the other amendment which has been suggested by our friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, would not be offered, then we would be in the position of almost compelling the majority to kill this bill because they would not agree to a constitutional convention in which we, the minority party had more delegates than the majority, in fact, we would not expect them to agree to that. We are not expecting to have the majority agree to that. We are only asking for what is right and fair, and under the circumstances we would not expect the majority party to hold a convention in which the minority party had the upper hand. I feel that the same objection still prevails, that unless a subsequent amendment is introduced, unless there is a gentleman's agreement that such an amendment will be introduced, the effect of this amendment would be to kill the bill from the minority side instead of from the majority.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, in opposing this amendment I do not do so from a personal standpoint, but it does seem to me that this bill ought to be treated in good faith. It ought to be considered whether a constitutional convention of 150 representatives or a constitutional convention of 250 representatives would be likely to produce the better results. It seems to me that the smaller body in which there would be three representatives from each senatorial district of the Commonwealth would be more likely to produce better results than the larger one would be. We have fifty senatorial districts, and that means a total representation of 150. If this amendment carries, it would mean five from each senatorial district, or a total membership in the convention of 250. It would also mean an additional cost to the Commonwealth of at least $100,000 because each delegate receives $1000 in compensation, in addition to travelling expenses. It seems to me that the amendment is not offered because it would make the bill more meritorious but as a reason for a change in this bill on third reading.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I think that my friend from Allegheny and my friend from Berks are entirely mistaken when they give utterance to the thought that these amendments have not been offered in good faith. There have benn a number of amendments offered. Of course the House is only considering section 3, and there are amendments to the other sections to harmonize with this amendment. The amendments are offered in good faith and the question for this House to determine is whether so important a document as the Constitution shall be left to a small body of men or a large body of men. Why should we go back to the people with the same proposition that the people themselves defeated two years ago? We went to the people two years ago with the small convention idea, and the people defeated it, and they told us by their vote, fairly, frankly and emphatically, that they would not stand for a hand-picked convention to draw their constitution. Now are we going to repeat the same error? If this constitutional convention is to pass laws, let us have it so that it will meet with favor from the people and not merely waste the Commonwealth's money and time and energy by sending a convention idea to the people that they will not approve of. My friend speaks about the minority representation. Now as I take it, Berks county would get them all but one. Where would the majority be there and maybe the Socialists in Reading might catch that one.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to unduly tire you, but I think the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia really call for an answer. If you will turn to your Smull's, page 337, you will find there that the Federal constitution was signed by thirty-eight delegates. If you will turn in the same volume to page 386 you will find the Pennsylvania Constitution of 1874 was signed by 121 delegates. Now the thing concerning which Mr. Sowers speaks and which caused so much criticism when this idea was voted down a couple of years ago was the fact that there were certain hand-picked delegates. Can that accusation be made now when you elect three instead of five? Under the bill as it comes to us from the Senate they are all elected. You do not make the situation any better or worse in the point of criticism by electing five, seven, nine or eleven, and if you refer further to the seating capacity of this House with 200 members, and then turn it into a constitutional convention room with 250, you can see where you are getting. First you are spending unduly, secondly, you are requiring more men than necessary, and third, according to precedent, more important constitutions have been passed than this may be.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. How many members of the constitutional convention refused to sign?

Mr. LUDLOW. I could not tell you. One or two states refused to sign, and New York was one.

Mr. SOWERS. You do not know the number?

Mr. LUDLOW. I could not tell you, but if you take Pennsylvania, according to the census at that time, and you could not squeeze fifty out of that convention if you had wanted to.

Mr. SOWERS. What was the population of Pennsylvania in 1874?

Mr. LUDLOW. I could not tell you that let me finish my answer. You are a good lawyer and you know the witness has a right to qualify his answer. The population in Pennsylvania is admittedly larger but the problems are not those that require a multiplication by nearly two.

Mr. SOWERS. Don't you think representation is more important, that is, the members to the constitutional convention should represent the particular people of a particular district?

Mr. LUDLOW. If the gentleman will go to Washington he will see his theory carried to the nth power.

Mr. SOWERS. Have you no idea what the population of the United States was at the time of the drafting of the constitution?

Mr. LUDLOW. In 1789, or in 1787?

Mr. SOWERS. In 1787.

Mr. LUDLOW. I do not want to test my memory, but you will find it in the summary in Smull's for each decade since 1790.

Mr. SOWERS. Was it as much as 5,000,000?

Mr. LUDLOW. I cannot tell you that. Your proposition provides for an increased cost of $100,000 and for fifty more than the room will hold exclusive of lobbyists.

Mr. SOWERS. Do you approve of lobbyists?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman's question is interesting, but not germane.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I think my friend's argument is merely diverting thought from the proposition before the House. He appears to deal with dollars, my friend talks of dollars constantly. If we had had a dollar in 1787 it would have bought much more than ten dollars would now. My friend ought not to talk of the condition of money now as against then, because a dollar was worth more then than now. What has money to do with the proposition? Do you want to go back to your people and say that the cities shall come here with a big representation without you people having a good representation? Do you want to go back to your people and say "I deprived you by my vote of a fair and honest representation in a convention?" My friend seems to think that a constitutional convention should consist of only wise men. Now the wise men are only men like my friend from Montgomery would pick. Let the people pick some wise men, they very seldom go wrong. The argument has been for some time for a small convention and for a small council. When it comes to elections our friends that favor this always find out that they are wrong.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker, I am always amused when my friend from Philadelphia goes into mourning in the interest of the people. A short time ago I introduced a bill that would have revolutionized the House. It provided for the introduction of an amendment to the constitution to limit the membership from its present number to one hundred. That bill was very quietly sent to the cemetery. There were only two members. I do not know whether they were democrats or republicans. That bill would have saved the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at least $400,000 per session, about $279,000 would have been saved in salaries alone, to say nothing of what would have been saved by all this useless trash here. So after the funeral—I was not even informed of it, I did not even get to go to the funeral, I found it out afterwards, but after it had been interred I went to some of my good Philadelphia friends, and I was still in deep mourning, and they said, "Schlieter, we could not have helped you anyhow, we believe in large representation, and your bill would have had the opposite effect, therefore had it come out on the floor of the House we would have had to oppose your bill." And then I had to laugh. The very idea, my friends, that the people of Philadelphia are represented in this House. The contest is never of the people and by the people. When the primary day approaches the factions cast about for candidates.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point or order.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the gentleman is not talking upon the amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules the point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine himself to a discussion of the question before the House.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Then, Mr. Speaker, I will talk on the amendment. The matter of five or three delegates I think makes very little difference. The people themselves will have very little to say, especially in the congested districts as to who shall represent them in this constitutional convention. They will be picked just the same as the Governor would have picked his twenty-five men, they will be picked by the bosses and the people will have very little to say. As to a minority representation, I think that is absolutely immaterial. If it is to be a constitutional convention it is to be a convention to lay down a guide for the government of the State and parties have no place in a code of that kind. Now the objection I have to the number being five is just the objection I have and the reason why I would have liked to have seen my bill pass here, reducing the number of members in this House, because the work can be done more effectively. If you had five members from each senatorial district of course you would have to place in more seats here in the House and if the same disorder took place there that is constantly taking place here, if you had one hundred you would have more than would be necessary. It is impossible to hear what is going on here now. What would it be in a constitutional convention of two hundred and fifty members? Therefore while I do not want to question the intention of those sponsoring these amendments yet I do not believe the point at this time is very well taken.

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Parkinson, Walker, Moffat, David J. Jones, McVicar, Vickerman, Horne, Haws, Lucas, Fratt, Lafferty, Bidelspacher, Heffernan, Kelly, McCaig, Price, Peelor, Huber, Kennedy, Kunkle, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question.

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. George N. Williams and Mr. McVicar, and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as the expression of the House has been given on the amendment, I will withdraw the amendments which were sent to the desk because they were in harmony with the raising of the number from three to five.

The fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth sections were seperately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 4 If the electors vote in favor of the convention nominations for district delegates to the said constitutional convention shall be made at the primary election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five The names of candidates for nomination shall be printed upon the official ballot of each political party upon the filing of nomination petitions in their behalf in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least forty days before the date of the said primary Such nomination petitions for district delegates shall be in the form required by law for the nomination of candidates for the office of Senator in the General Assembly except that a candidate may or may not be an inhabitant of the Senatorial District in which he or she is a candidate and shall be signed by at least two hundred qualified electors of the Senatorial districts within which the respective candidates are to be nominated

The Secretary of the Commonwealth in forwarding to the county commissioners of each county a list of the candidates for the various offices to be nominated at the said primary election shall include the names of the candidates of each party for delegates to be the constitutional convention

Each elector voting at such primary shall be entitled to vote for two candidates for district delegates to such constitutional convention

The county commissioners or the proper return judges shall make the proper certificates of return of votes cast for the candidates for nomination for the office of delegate to the constitutional convention to the Secretary of the Commonwealth

The two candidates of any political party receiving the largest number of votes at the said primary election shall be the nominees of such party for delegates from the Senatorial district within which such candidates are nominated

Section 5 Nominations for district delegates to said constitutional convention if authorized as hereinbefore provided may also be made by nomination papers in the manner provided by law for the nomination by nomination papers of candidates for Senator in the General Assembly

Section 6 If the electors at the said election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four shall authorize the holding of a constitutional convention as hereinbefore provided district delegates to such convention shall be elected at the municipal election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five

The ballots for use at such municipal election in the several Senatorial districts of the Commonwealth shall contain the names of the Candidates for district delegates from such districts nominated as hereinbefore provided Each elector voting at such municipal election shall be entitled to vote for two district delegates to such constitutional convention and the three candidates for district delegates in each district receiving the highest vote shall be the district delegates from such district to the constitutional convention

Section 7 Returns of the said election shall be made by the proper prothonotary or return judges to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall certify the result to the Governor who shall thereupon declare by proclamation the names of the persons duly elected Any vacancies occurring in the office of delegate to said constitutional convention may be filled by vote of the remaining delegates

Section 8 If a constitutional convention be authorized as hereinbefore provided it shall be called to order by the Governor and it shall immediately organize by electing a president secretary and such other officers as shall be necessary for the transaction of its business It shall have the power to adopt rules of procedure finally to determine the election and qualification of delegates and generally to adjourn to such time or times and such place or places as it shall determine

The ninth section was read as follows:

Section 9 It shall be the duty of such constitutional convention to consider the constitution recommended by "The Commission on Constitutional Amendment and Revision" appointed under the act approved the fourth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred nineteen

The convention may submit a proposed constitution as a whole or may submit separately such parts thereof as it may determine Provided That one-third of all the members of the convention shall have the right to require the separate and distinct submission to a popular vote of any change and amendment proposed by the convention

The convention shall also frame the question necessary to elicit from the electors their approval or rejection of the said proposed costitution and of any parts to be separately submitted in brief form and so that they can be answered by either the word "yes" or the word "no"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 9, page 6, line 16, by striking out the word "one-third" and inserting in lieu thereof "five-twelfths".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I just want to call your attention to the effect of this amendment. Section 9 provides now that the convention may submit a proposed constitution as a whole or may submit separately such parts thereof as it may determine, provided that one-third of all the members of the convention shall have the right to require the separate and distinct submission to a popular vote of any change and amendment proposed by the constitution. Now this amendment proposes to change that from one-third, or four-twelfths, to five-twelfths.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER declared the "nays" appear to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for, and fifty-two members having voted in the affirmative and eigth-eight in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The tenth, eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 10 Such constitution as may be proposed by the constitutional convention shall be engrossed and signed by the president and secretary of the convention and shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Commonwealth not later than the first Monday of September of the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall enter the proposed constitution upon the records of his office He shall publish the said proposed constitution in at least two newspapers in every county of the State wherein said number of newspapers may be published once during the week immediately preceding the election and shall publish the same in convenient form and send a copy thereof to every elector in the Commonwealth making application therefor He shall also cause to be sent through the county commissioners to each polling place in the Commonwealth in sufficient time to be there available to persons voting thereat at least ten copies of the proposed constitution so published for the use of voters desiring to consult the same while in the polling place

The question framed by the convention as aforesaid shall be by said convention certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall in turn at least thirty days before the general election of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six certify the same to the county commissioners of the several counties The question so certified shall be printed on the official ballot to be used at such general election followed by the words "yes" and "no" and appropriate voting blocks as provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth for the submission of question to the vote of the people

Section 11 The constitution and any parts thereof to be submitted separately proposed by such constitutional convention shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the Commonwealth for their approval or rejection at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six A majority of the electors voting upon the adoption or rejection of the proposed constitution shall be necessary for its adoption Such proposed constitution and any parts thereof submitted separately if approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon shall become effective unless the proposed constitution or the schedule thereto shall otherwise provide upon the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven Returns of the vote cast for and against the proposed constitution and for and against any parts thereof submitted separately as hereinbefore provided shall be canvassed as provided by law and shall be certified by the prothonotary of every county to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall compute the same and certify the result to the Governor If from said certificate it shall appear that the proposed constitution and any parts thereof submitted separately shall have been adopted by the people the Governor shall immediately make proclamation thereof

Section 12 The members of the constitutional convention if held as provided by this act shall receive a salary of one thousand dollars ($1,000) payable in five equal instalments an allowance for traveling expenses of twenty cents per mile circular for one session and an allowance for postage stationery and contingencies of one hundred dollars ($100)

The convention shall have the power to employ and to fix the compensation of a secretary and such officers assistants clerks and other employes as shall be deemed necessary to carry out the provisions of this act

Section 13 It is the intent of this act that the procedure provided for the nomination and election of district delegates shall be the same as that provided by law for the nomination and election of Senators in the General Assembly and matters relating to the nomination and election of delegates not expressly covered by this act shall be governed by the laws relating to the nomination and election of such Senators

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The amendment was read as follows:

Amend bill by inserting after the end of section 13 on page 9 the following as a new section:

Section 14. The constitutional convention shall have the aid and assistance of the Legislative Reference Bureau and shall have authority to specially employ any one or more officers or employes of said bureau, and may authorize the employment by said bureau of such additional assistants as may be deemed necessary by the convention and provide for the payment of such assistants from any appropriation made by the General Assembly for the payment of the expenses of the convention.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, this amendment merely provides that the Legislative Reference Bureau shall assist the Constitutional Convention, the same as it does the Legislature now.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, while I am not sure that I catch the full intent of that amendment, but as I gather from the reading of it, it seems to give the assistance of the Legislative Bureau to this Convention is all right. I cannot see anything wrong with this amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to as follows:

An Act to regulate the practice of Chiropractic and to provide for the appointment and maintenance of the Board of Chiropractic Examiners To define the powers and duties of said Board of Chiropractic Examiners To provide for the examining and licensing of Chiropractors in this State and provide penalties for the violation of this act

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

In the Senate May 21, 1923.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That authority is hereby given to the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings to permit the placing without cost to the Commonwealth of a memorial tablet on the wall of the main corridor of the Capitol building, at a point just south east of the rotunda in honor of the late Dr. Joseph Trimble Rothrock a gallant and patriotic soldier and officer of the Civil War, the first Commissioner of Forestry of Pennsylvania, founder of the Mont Alto Sanatorium, and of the Mont Alto Forest School.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate May 19, 1923.

Whereas, The Federal Government in the enactment of the Weeks law after prolonged inquiry and discussion, in order to meet urgent National needs, adopted the permanent policy of purchasing lands on the watersheds of navigable rivers to be administered as National forests and for the protection and improvement of navigation, and provided for expenditure for that purpose at the rate of $2,000,000 a year; and

Whereas, Owing to the condition of the Federal Treasury resulting from the burdens of war the appropriation for said purpose for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, was cut down to $450,000, an amount inadequate to carry out the said policy with economy and efficiency; and

Whereas, The failing timber supply and the expense of transportation have brought the eastern part of the United States to a condition of virtual famine in this fundamental resource wherefore appropriations to correct this condition should be made with increasing liberality and considered as vital to the welfare of the Nation; and

Whereas, This Commonwealth, sensible of its own needs and its duty toward sister states in the matter of timber supply and stream regulation through forest restoration on lands more suitable for that purpose than for other uses has purchased and is administering as State forests more than 1,130,000 acres of land, chiefly on the watersheds of navigable rivers; and

Whereas, The General Asembly desiring more nearly to meet the need of forest restoration on the remaining 13, 000,000 acres of land chiefly valuable for forest production within the borders of the Commonwealth has initiated at this present Session an amendment of the Constitution of the Commonwealth to authorize a bond issue of $25,000,000 for the purchase of approximately 5,000,000 additional acres of land for State forest which will be located chiefly on the watersheds of navigable streams;

Now, Therefore, be it Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring) That it is hereby recomended and respectfully urged upon the President, the Congress and the Federal Budget Bureau that expenditures for land purchase under the Weeks Law at the rate of $2,000,000 per year be resumed beginning with the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, as the mimimum present contribution consistent with the performance of National duty toward the States and the people in this matter; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the following officers of the United States: The President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, the Chairman of the National Forest Reservation Commission, the Chairman of the Select Committee of the Senate on Reforestation; also to each Senator and Representative representing the Commonwealth in Congress.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.
